19TH YEAR. NO. 65.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 1902.

TWO CENTS.

ANOTHER EDICT IS ISSUED BY MAYOR W. C. DAVIDSON

He Declares Saloon Keepers
Have Violated Orders and
Defied the Law.

WILL STAND IT NO LONGER

His Patience Exhausted, He Proposes to Make It Warm
For Offenders.

NO ONE WILL BE SPARED

And Those Who Carelessly or Purposely Disregard the Law Hereafter Might As Well Prepare for Trouble, the City's Executive Says.

Mayor Davidson several weeks ago issued an order to the saloonkeepers of the city, asking that the law with reference to keeping open after hours and on Sunday be complied with.

At that time a great many took heed of the warning, their places of business were closed and screens removed promptly upon the hour designated for them to do so, but there were others who apparently paid no heed to the order.

Those who sought to defy the law, and the orders of the mayor as well, soon discovered the folly of the course they had pursued. Many of them had taken the matter as a joke, but the mayor was in earnest and several of them were arrested and heavily fined for their persistency in violating the laws, not only of the city but of the state as well. And the matter did not end in the mayor's court, for, as a result of the arrests that were made then, several of the same saloonkeepers were indicted by the grand jury, fined, and a few of them were even sent to jail.

The mayor now issues a second edict. He says that for a time after the crusade every saloon in the city, apparently fully complied with the law, but from various reports which have reached him within the past few weeks, violations are frequent. To a News Review reporter this morning he said: "I have been very patient with these fellows, but my patience is now exhausted. I will say that there are a few saloonkeepers who, I believe, would not knowingly allow their places of business to remain open a minute after the time specified for them to close, but on the other hand there are those who persist in taking every advantage of me that they can, and I do not propose to stand it any longer. You can say for me that I do not intend that this class shall continue to run as I hear they have been doing during the past few weeks, and hereafter every offender, no matter who it is, shall pay the penalty."

FOOT BADLY CRUSHED

A Foundry Workman Got It Entangled
in Some of the Machinery.

Thomas Hupp, a machinist employed at the upper shop of the Patterson Foundry & Machine company, met with a serious accident while at work this morning. In some unaccountable manner his right foot became entangled in the machinery and was severely crushed before it could be extricated.

The flesh about the ankle was badly lacerated, but no bones were broken. The injured man was removed to his home on Second street in the patrol and is reported as resting easy this afternoon.

NO OPPOSITION

TO CONGRESSMAN TAYLER FOR ANOTHER TERM.

His Gubernatorial Boom Is Assuming
Well-Defined Proportions.

Columbus, March 18. — (Special). Senator Connell, of Lisbon, returned to the state capital from his home on Monday afternoon, and brought with him information to the effect that Congressman Robert W. Tayler, of Lisbon, would have no opposition for re-nomination in his district. The Columbus Dispatch says that Congressman Tayler appears to be gaining strength in his candidacy for governor.

"When announcement was first made that Mr. Tayler would be a candidate," says the Dispatch, "the comment most frequently heard was that his candidacy was no more than a local affair, but it now develops that he is being looked upon with favor by men high in the councils of the party."

The paper also says that Mr. Connell is one of the active and influential Republicans of eastern Ohio who has already done much to promote Mr. Tayler's candidacy. The formal announcement of Congressman Tayler's intention to run for governor was made in the Neil house in this city by Senator Connell in December. Since that time the senator's name has been mentioned in connection with Mr. Tayler's candidacy quite frequently.

TO SATISFY CLAIMS

Three Shares of Gas Apparatus Company Stock Were Sold
Today.

Three shares of stock of the Gas Apparatus and Construction company were sold by H. E. Grosshans at public auction in Squire McCarron's office at noon today to satisfy a claim of $100 he held against H. H. C. Hammerton. Mr. Grosshans claims that Hammerton was indebted to him in the above amount for legal services performed which Hammerton refused to pay.

The stock which belonged to Hammerton was in Grosshans' possession and he accordingly sold it to satisfy his claim. Hammerton himself was the purchaser, paying $16.50 a share. As there is still a balance due on the original $100 claim further litigation is threatened.

NOTED SAFE BLOWER

Such, It Is Believed, Is the Man Who
Was Arrested at Moultrie.

Everett Robey, who was arrested by Chief of Police P. D. Howell, of Alliance, at Moultrie, Saturday, has been taken to Columbus. He is believed to be a notorious safe blower. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by I. A. Pherson, postmaster at Pherson, near Darbyville, charging him with complicity in a safecracking job. It is suspected that Robey is a member of the gang.

Robey has been living in Cleveland. He has served a sentence in the Mansfield reformatory for robbery.

To Be Erected Near Beaver—Plans for It Being Drawn

ness.

BILL TO PROTECT MINERS

Which Has Many Commendable Features—Sweeping Measure Applicable to School Teachers—Municipal
Code Bill Considered Dead.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 18. — (Special) — The house will hold a session tonight to dispose of a large number of local bills which have been piling up on the calendar. It is probable that it will be necessary to hold night sessions regularly later, if the present dilatory tactics are not abandoned.

Senator Connell yesterday reconsidered his determination not to introduce a single bill and consented to hand in a measure shortly after the senate convened to extend the term of the dairy and food commissioner from two to three years.

Representative Pollock, of Stark, submitted a bill to provide safeguards for those employed in the construction and operation of underground tunnels, slopes and ventilating shafts. A system of inspection, similar to that in vogue in mines, is provided for, to be under the regulation of the chief inspectors of mines of the state. The provisions of the bill are commendable, and there seems to be substantial reason why the measure should not become a law. It would work no hardship on employers, but simply would render it incumbent upon them to exercise proper caution for the protection of the lives of those in their employ. Representative Pollock has been chosen by the labor organizations of the state to introduce the bills drawn in their behalf.

Senator Warner, of Cleveland, presented two sweeping school bills on Monday afternoon. One of them provides that no certificate shall be issued to any teacher who has not had at least five years' experience or has had studied for one term in a normal school. The other bill proposes a board of regents, to control all the educational institutions of the state. There would be nine members, five of whom would be appointed by the governor and the other four by the state school commissioner and the heads of the various universities. The board is to have complete supervision of all schools, especially with regard to courses of study, grades, etc. It is also empowered to create preparatory schools.

Representative York, of Ottawa, who is a member of the committee which has charge of the municipal code bill, expressed the belief last night that the measure would never leave the hands of the committee. The committee had done nothing but listen to arguments for and against the bill, and the situation has become so complicated that it has become impossible to define any fixed policy with respect to the measure. A great number of objections have been made to the provisions of the bill, but they are widely divergent.

ANOTHER STEP TOWARD UNION

Taken By the Public Library
Board at a Meeting
Last Night.

A CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Chosen to Meet With Members of the
Carnegie Library Board—Session
Tonight at Which It Is Hoped Progress Will Be Made.

From the action taken by the public library board at its meeting last night, it now seems certain that definite steps will be taken at once for the merging of the two institutions.

Messrs. Weisend, McLane, Flowers, Reark, Brookes, Collins, Orr, Cope and Gilbert were present, and John J. Purinton attended the meeting from the Carnegie board.

It had been held by certain members of the old public library that while overtures had been made to the former board looking to consolidation, the new body since its organization, was not bound to abide by any action taken previous to their election to the position of directors. As soon as the Carnegie people were made aware of this, steps were taken to go over the same ground once more. Mr. Purinton made an intelligent and comprehensive explanation, and he said to the credit of a majority of those in attendance, they were favorable to the proposition.

The original plan of the Carnegie board was proposed, which provides for a special act increasing the number of members of the Carnegie board from six to nine in order that the labor people might have representation. It was shown that the division would be in favor of the working people, and the suggestion made that a just distribution would be three members from the workmen, two from the professional ranks, two from among the business men, with two to be selected from the manufacturers.

After some discussion a committee composed of J. J. Weisend, D. M. McLane and A. V. Gilbert was appointed to confer with a like number from the Carnegie board. The latter body will be represented by J. J. Purinton, G. V. Travis and George Peach. The joint committee will meet at 7 o'clock tonight, and when it has finished the work before it, there is every reason to believe a bill will be ready for presentation to the legislature, which will contain all the necessary requirements. That it will meet with prompt consideration at the hands of the law-makers there is no doubt, as it will be a matter that concerns East Liverpool alone.

THINK HIM INSANE

Police Astonished By the Quicer Capers Cut By Ben Lloyd.

Ben Lloyd, who has figured conspicuously in police court during the past year and who is at present in jail charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct, will probably be taken to the county infirmary. He is without friends and has no money with which to pay his fine.

The police are of the opinion that the man is insane, probably caused by his over-indulgence in drink. During yesterday and last night he performed all kinds of fancy capers in his cell and insisted that the other prisoners should serve him with different brands of liquor, claiming that they were all bartenders and thoroughly understood their business. This morning he extended an invitation to the mayor to eat taffy with him, claiming to have received a consignment of a superior quality during the night.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PROGRAM A MOST ENJOYABLE ONE

RESTRAINING ORDER

ISSUED AGAINST COUNTY AUDIT-OR J. F. ADAMS.

Temporary Injunction Secured By Buckeye Engine Company in
a Tax Dispute.

Lisbon, March 18. — (Special) — A temporary restraining order has been granted the Buckeye Engine company, of Salem, against Auditor J. F. Adams.

The petition filed by the company says the auditor it about to place on the tax duplicate a large sum of money as taxable property, in addition to other property on which the company now pays taxes. An order was asked restraining him from doing so for the year ending in April, 1902, and for each of the five preceding years. The company further asked that the injunction be made perpetual after the hearing of the case.

The temporary injunction granted simply causes a lull in the proceedings until common pleas court passes upon the case.

DRIVEN FROM HOME

LISBON CHILDREN BAREFOOT IN THE STREET.

A Drunken Father Had Abused
Them And His Wife.

Lisbon, March 18. — (Special) — Francis Pryor, colored, was arrested last night for abusing his wife and stepchildren. The children found the officers near the opera house last night and reported that their father had driven them from home. They were barefooted and only half clothed.

Pryor has served time in the workhouse and jail.

BLAZE AT A POTTERY

A Very Small Fire at McNicol's Called
Out the Department.

What might have proven a serious fire occurred at the D. E. McNicol pottery about 11:30 o'clock last night. An overheated flue set the woodwork in the ceiling of the old yellow ware dipping house on fire, burning a small hole in the floor of the second story.

An alarm was sent to the central fire station and the firemen by quick action extinguished the flames by using four Babcocks.

At 11 o'clock Night Watchman Mike Callahan turned out the gas in the stove in this room and when he returned later the floor was smoldering. The loss is slight and no inconvenience was caused the employees of the pottery.

EXCHANGED PROPERTIES

An East Ender And a West Ender
Make a Swap of Real Estate.

P. M. McLean and William Orrin exchanged properties today. Mr. McLean gets the Orrin property on First avenue, East End, consisting of a store room and dwelling valued at $2,900, in exchange for his residence in the West End, valued at $1,500, paying the difference in cash.

THE EVENING ENTERTAINMENT

Was Also a Pronounced Success—Visitors Got Home Late, Tired But
Happy—The Day's Exercises Described in Detail.

The members of the Division No. 1 A. O. H. and their friends from this city, who made the trip to Steubenville yesterday, had a very pleasant trip, and the program was greatly enjoyed.

Late last evening a report was circulated in this city to the effect that James Dillon, a well known kiln-hand had been shot and fatally wounded by a colored policeman during the afternoon.

The News Review at once communicated with the authorities at Steubenville, with the result that the story was found to be without the slightest foundation.

The Salineville delegation, numbering about 200, returned with the Liverpool people about midnight and their cars were taken out the main line later.

The day was most agreeably spent and proved one of the happiest St. Patrick's day celebrations that the East Liverpool A. O. H. ever participated in.

The members of the Steubenville division of Hibernians, headed by Bueche's band, met the visitors at the depot, where the parade, which was a most creditable one, was formed as follows:

Chief Marshal P. McGarry.
Deputy Marshal D. W. Connor.
Carriage of Speakers and State Officers,
Haynes' Band, of East Liverpool.
Division No. 1, A. O. H., of East Liverpool; 60 men.
Division No. 2, A. O. H., of Salineville;
80 men.
Division No. 2, A. O. H., of Toronto;
30 men.
Bueche's Band.
Division No. 1, A. O. H., of Steubenville; 50 men.

From the station the parade moved up Market street and south on Fifth to Holy Name Church, the bands playing "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning." All along the line of march the sidewalks were filled with people "a wearing of the green" and many of the buildings, show windows, etc., were decorated in the colors of the Emerald Isle. At Holy Name Church high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Hartley who also delivered a most eloquent and inspiring sermon to the members of the order and their friends, who filled every available seat in the church. The choir also rendered several special musical numbers after mass. It was almost noon when the services at the church were concluded. The parade again formed and moved down Slack to Fourth, up Fourth to South, to Third, to Logan, and then to the Deanery on Fourth street, where it halted for five minutes, where Rev. Father Dacey made a brief address from the steps of the Deanery. The parade then moved to Fourth and Market, where it disbanded.

In the afternoon sixty candidates from East Liverpool, Salineville and Toronto were initiated into the order at A. O. H. Hall.

The exercises of the day concluded with an entertainment at the Olympia last night, for which the following program had been arranged:

Opening, America.....Victor Quartette

ment.

What might have proven a serious fire occurred at the D. E. McNicol pottery about 11:30 o'clock last night. An overheated flue set the woodwork in the ceiling of the old yellow ware dipping house on fire, burning a small hole in the floor of the second story.

An alarm was sent to the central fire station and the firemen by quick action extinguished the flames by using four Babcocks.

At 11 o'clock Night Watchman Mike Callahan turned out the gas in the stove in this room and when he returned later the floor was smoldering.

The loss is slight and no inconvenience was caused the employees of the pottery.

The members of the Division No. 1 A. O. H. and their friends from this city, who made the trip to Steubenville yesterday, had a very pleasant trip, and the program was greatly enjoyed.

Late last evening a report was circulated in this city to the effect that James Dillon, a well known kiln-hand had been shot and fatally wounded by a colored policeman during the afternoon.

The News Review at once communicated with the authorities at Steubenville, with the result that the story was found to be without the slightest foundation.

The Salineville delegation, numbering about 200, returned with the Liverpool people about midnight and their cars were taken out the main line later.

The day was most agreeably spent and proved one of the happiest St. Patrick's day celebrations that the East Liverpool A. O. H. ever participated in.

The members of the Steubenville division of Hibernians, headed by Bueche's band, met the visitors at the depot, where the parade, which was a most creditable one, was formed as follows:

Chief Marshal P. McGarry.
Deputy Marshal D. W. Connor.
Carriage of Speakers and State Officers, Haynes' Band, of East Liverpool; Division No. 1, A. O. H., of East Liverpool; 60 men.
Division No. 2, A. O. H., of Salineville; 80 men.
Division No. 2, A. O. H., of Toronto; 30 men.
Bueche's Band.
Division No. 1, A. O. H., of Steubenville; 50 men.

From the station the parade moved up Market street and south on Fifth to Holy Name Church, the bands playing "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning." All along the line of march the sidewalks were filled with people "a wearing of the green" and many of the buildings, show windows, etc., were decorated in the colors of the Emerald Isle. At Holy Name Church high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Hartley who also delivered a most eloquent and inspiring sermon to the members of the order and their friends, who filled every available seat in the church. The choir also rendered several special musical numbers after mass. It was almost noon when the services at the church were concluded. The parade again formed and moved down Slack to Fourth, up Fourth to South, to Third, to Logan, and then to the Deannery on Fourth street, where it halted for five minutes, where Rev. Father Dacey made a brief address from the steps of the Deannery. The parade then moved to Fourth and Market, where it disbanded.

In the afternoon sixty candidates from East Liverpool, Salineville and Toronto were initiated into the order at A. O. H. Hall.

The exercises of the day concluded with an entertainment at the Olympia last night, for which the following program had been arranged:
Opening, America.....Victor Quartette

Song, Wild Irish Rose.....

Many plans for new residences are being made, and it will not be long now until things will be looking different in this part of the city, at least as far as building is concerned.

HANDBALL A GREAT DEVELOPING GAME.

Now a Regular Part of Every Pugilist's Training Operations. Champion Mike Egan.

Handball has become one of the most popular of winter indoor sports, and thousands of athletes throughout the United States are daily and nightly engaged in playing the great game. During the last few months many new courts have been placed in commission in various towns and cities, and at the present time no gymnasium is considered well appointed unless provision has been made for the sport.

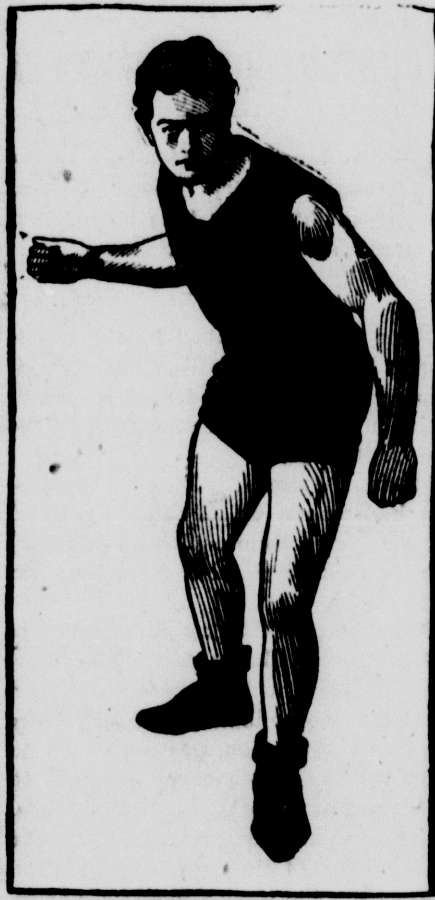

Athletes of all sorts have adopted the game as a means of preparation for contests, and the benefits derived are such as to render it practically invaluable. Pugilists have long been ardent patrons, and for an all around developer the game has yet to be surpassed.

James J. Corbett was one of the first to realize the value of handball as a training exercise and always put in half an hour each day in the court while preparing for a fight. Champion Jim Jeffries got the fever at Carson City when he was assisting Corbett to train for his fight with Fitzsimmons, and he used a handball court whenever possible.

Those who play handball claim that no other pastime combines so great a number of qualities that tend to develop agility, strength and speed and that there is probably no other game which requires so much quickness of thought and rapidity of action. The speed of the bounding ball keeps the players on the jump all the time.

Michael Egan of Jersey City is the champion handball player of the world. He has a court in his home city and may be seen at almost any time, meeting would be conquerors. Egan's ability in this particular line is nothing short of marvelous. He has been a player and a student of the sport for many years and knows practically every trick in the business. He has held the world's championship for several years, and there seems to be no imminent danger of his losing it. Egan has often been called on to defend his title, but his victories have occurred with monotonous regularity.

A good player must be able to use either hand with equal facility. The quickness of the ball's rebound renders this absolutely necessary, for the performer seldom has sufficient time in which to turn around. Egan is particularly adept at this feature, and his opponents gain no advantage whatever by returning the hard leather covered ball to his left side. All hands look alike to the champion. The accompanying illustration shows Egan in the act of running in after a "short" ball. It is a difficult matter to return accurately a short ball while on the run. A slight overestimate of distance will result in a complete miss, or else the ball will receive a glancing blow, which oftentimes is just as bad.

Serving is a very important part of the game. To be able to serve well is to have decidedly improved chances for finishing first. Every move of the opponent should be watched with the sharpest of eyes, for by following this plan an opportunity is often presented to catch a man off his guard.

A point to which every ambitious player should pay a great deal of attention is the manner of returning the ball. As it rises in its rebound or as it bounds directly from the board it should be met in the face by the palm of the hand and returned sharply, at the same time giving due consideration to accuracy.

Without accuracy no person will be able to compete with strong players. Egan's accuracy is wonderful to behold. He can at any time return the ball so that it will strike inside a circle six inches in circumference. And it is this accomplishment that has had the most to do with making him champion.

Track athletes are also devotees of this many sided recreation. In the colleges and athletic clubs candidates for running and jumping honors are frequently told by their trainers to make use of the handball courts. Baseball cranks state that they find themselves materially aided by work on the asphalt floored inclosures.

Stallings Is a Winner.

Buffalo's new manager, George Stallings, has a national reputation for developing good teams, having landed nine championships in fifteen years and never finishing lower than fourth place.

Doves and Coronations.

At the ancient ceremonies of coronation of the French kings, after the anointing had been performed, some white doves were let loose in the church. This was supposed to symbolize the power of the Holy Ghost in directing the king's actions. A similar idea seems to have inspired all early kings, for among the English regalia is the rod of equity or the scepter with the dove. This is simply a golden rod with a mound at the top, which supports a cross. On this cross is a dove, fashioned of white enamel, with expanded wings. Some fine diamonds ornament the rod in various places.

Serving is a very important part of the game. To be able to serve well is to have decidedly improved chances for finishing first. Every move of the opponent should be watched with the sharpest of eyes, for by following this plan an opportunity is often presented to catch a man off his guard.

A point to which every ambitious player should pay a great deal of attention is the manner of returning the ball. As it rises in its rebound or as it bounds directly from the board it should be met in the face by the palm of the hand and returned sharply, at the same time giving due consideration to accuracy.

Without accuracy no person will be able to compete with strong players. Egan's accuracy is wonderful to behold. He can at any time return the ball so that it will strike inside a circle six inches in circumference. And it is this accomplishment that has had the most to do with making him champion.

Track athletes are also devotees of this many sided recreation. In the colleges and athletic clubs candidates for running and jumping honors are frequently told by their trainers to make use of the handball courts. Baseball cracks state that they find themselves materially aided by work on the asphalt floored inclosures.

Stallings Is a Winner.

Doves and Coronations.

At the ancient ceremonies of coronation of the French kings, after the anointing had been performed, some white doves were let loose in the church. This was supposed to symbolize the power of the Holy Ghost in directing the king's actions. A similar idea seems to have inspired all early kings, for among the English regalia is the rod of equity or the scepter with the dove. This is simply a golden rod with a mound at the top, which supports a cross. On this cross is a dove, fashioned of white enamel, with expanded wings. Some fine diamonds ornament the rod in various places.

SHIP BILL PASSED.

Subsidy Measure Went Through

In the Senate by Vote
of 42 to 31.

AMENDED BY ITS FRIENDS.

Hanna Offered and Senate Adopted

Three Amendments, Which Would

Prevent Morgan Getting Subsidies

For Newly Acquired Leyland Line.

Washington, March 18.—After a prolonged debate, the senate yesterday passed the ship subsidy bill, the final vote upon the measure being 42 to 31. Senators Allison and Dilliver, of Iowa; Spooner and Quarles, of Wisconsin; and Proctor and Dillingham, of Vermont, Republicans, voted against final passage of the bill, and Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, voted for it.

Some Amendments Were Adopted.

Some amendments to the bill were adopted, but they were all agreeable to those in charge of the measure, the friends of the bill voting down all other amendments. With exception of amendments offered by Mr. Allison, and accepted by Mr. Frye, limiting the time of the operation of contracts made under the provisions of the bill to July 1, 1920, and providing that the amount of the expenditure under the mail subsidy paragraph should not at any time exceed $8,000,000 annually, none of the amendments agreed to materially affected the bill as it was reported from the caucus committee.

The voting upon the amendments began at 3 o'clock, and such a flood of them was offered that a final vote upon the bill, as amended, was not reached until just before 6 o'clock. Amendments offered by Mr. Vest, of Missouri, providing for "free ships" and for the application of the provisions of the anti-trust law to the shipping industry were rejected, as was the amendment proposed by Mr. Patterson, of Colorado, providing that no Chinese person should be a member of the crew of a subsidized vessel. Mr. Pettus, of Alabama, offered an amendment providing that the total expenditure under the bill should not exceed $9,000,000 in any one year. It was adopted in committee of the whole, but later, in the senate, was rejected by a decisive vote.

Agreed to Spooner Amendment.

The senate agreed to an amendment offered by Mr. Spooner providing that congress should have power to amend or repeal the act, without impairing any contract made under its authority.

Mr. Hanna, of Ohio, offered, and the senate adopted, three amendments applying directly to the acquisition by Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan and his associates of the Leyland line of British ships. They provide that no foreign built ship shall participate in the proposed subsidy; that nothing in the act shall be construed to prevent American citizens or corporations from holding or operating foreign ships in the ocean carrying trade, and that no foreign built ship of any line thus acquired by American citizens shall be admitted hereafter to American registry.

GIVE THE BAD BOY SOMETHING TO DO

By EUGENE WHITNEY, Secretary of the People's University Extension Society of New York

THE average bad boy is simply a boy bubbling over with vitality and the natural spirits of a healthy animal. He expends his energies in fighting and other objectionable practices because he has no other interesting way of working off his surplus steam.

GIVE HIM SOMETHING TO DO, SOMETHING TO OCCUPY THE ACTIVE BRAIN AND HANDS, AND YOU OPEN A NEW WORLD TO HIM—A WORLD OF UNDREAMED OF POSSIBILITIES, OF USEFULNESS FOR HIMSELF AND HUMANITY. The inherent nobility in the wildest boy is only awaiting the magic touch of opportunity to spring into active life.

The People's University Extension Society of New York is furnishing a large number of free classes in elementary manual work of all kinds throughout the city. The remarkable transforming power of manual work over boys who would usually be called hopelessly bad was recently shown in one of our free classes in elementary carpentry. On the opening night of the class one boy was so unmanageable that the superintendent put him out of the room. He returned the next evening and within a very few weeks had been so transformed by the inspiration of manual work that he became the best workman of the entire class.

Very encouraging incidents constantly come to our notice showing the powerful impulse for good which is brought into the lives of these waifs of the street by the systematic training of hand and brain under the direction of qualified and sympathetic teachers. THE APTITUDE FOR LEARNING SHOWN BY BOYS WHO HAVE HAD NO OPPORTUNITIES FOR MAKING ANYTHING OF THEMSELVES IS OFTEN ASTONISHING. It is not unusual to find a boy doing such good work in chair caning after half a dozen lessons that he supports himself in that employment.

cases of conflict of authority between the civil and military authorities in the Philippines find substantial confirmation in an order recently issued by General Chaffee, the division commander at Manila, to the commanding officer of the fifth separate brigade operating in Iloilo. The order was in part:

"There appears to be some misunderstanding as to the extent and under what circumstances the military may act of its own motion in provinces where civil government has been put in operation by the Philippine commission. The division commander desires to avoid friction with the civil authorities, and you are informed that the civil government entertains a strong suspicion that the army in many instances willfully and for ulterior motives unnecessarily interferes with the civil officials in their prescribed duties, making arrests when they should not do so, usually on suspicion rather than for just cause; if not for cause, then unwarranted arrests because of the fact that civil authority, not military, should act.

"You are advised also that the vice civil governor has been informed by the constabulary and others that the presence of the army is no longer necessary or advisable at a very large majority of the stations now occupied by it in what are known as pacified provinces.

"Arrests and holding of prisoners by the military in cases not mentioned are questionable and are to be avoided when practicable to do so. The military will be upheld in attacking all armed bodies which officers believe are intended to disturb the orderly and peaceful authority of the United States in these islands. It will be well, however, to determine in advance whether it is United States authority aimed at or whether a mere local disorderly band is out for robbing, the suppression of which the civil authorities may prefer to deal with single handed, unaided by the army of the United States. You are advised also that many complaints are received by the civil governor to the effect that soldiers are disorderly in the communities where stationed; that they are harsh and ill treat the inhabitants. No excuse can be accepted for complaints of this sort, if true, from any station of our troops in the pacified provinces. It is the duty of every officer to maintain good discipline of his troops and to repress at once every disorderly act committed by soldiers on the inhabitants. Military necessity is one thing—lawlessness is another, and quite a different matter."

ELECTIONS IN SOME STATES.

House Committee Voted to Report Crumpacker Resolution—Democrats Threaten Trouble.

Washington, March 18.—The house committee on rules, by a divided vote on party lines, yesterday decided to report the resolution of Representative Crumpacker, of Indiana, for a special committee of 13 members to investigate and report on the alleged disfranchisement of voters in some of the states.

The two Democratic members of the committee, Representatives Richardson, of Tennessee, and Underwood, of Alabama, protested against reporting the resolution, and when it was ordered to be reported by the affirmative votes of the Republican members of the committee, Speaker Henderson and Representatives Dazell, the Democratic members consulted their colleagues on the floor of the house and began considering the advisability of expressing their dissent by resorting to the most extreme de-

VICES of parliamentary procedure, even to the extent of stopping the regular procedure of the house. That this extreme step shall be taken has not yet been decided on, as Messrs. Richardson and Underwood, after conferring with other Democratic members, said that action of the character contemplated should not be taken unless there is the most complete concurrence by the entire minority and a determination in advance to make a most determined contest. To this end it is the intention to submit the matter to a Democratic caucus, probably on Wednesday night. A caucus already has been called for that night to consider the Boer war. Under the caucus rules it will require unanimous consent to consider anything outside the Boer subject. But in view of the general sentiment among Democratic members, it is expected that unanimous consent will be given to consider the disfranchisement question. Otherwise another caucus will be called.

CHINESE EXCLUSION BILL.

Penrose Submitted Report on Bill He Reported Recently.

Washington, March 18.—Senator Penrose, chairman of the committee on immigration, yesterday submitted a report on the Chinese exclusion bill which he reported a few days ago. He said that the sentiment of the American people is crystallized against the admission of Chinese laborers to compete with the workingmen of the United States. The Chinese government has agreed heretofore in treaties that Chinese laborers shall be prohibited from entering the United States. After reciting the acts relating to Chinese exclusion, the report says:

"Under the administration of existing laws many of the evil results of the previous unrestricted immigration of Chinese have been nullified and under their protection American labor has regained much that was lost by former competition of Chinese cheap labor.

"It is obvious, however, that the former evils are not forgotten by the workingmen of this country and that the demand for the continuance of our established policy is well nigh universal and voiced with an earnestness and persistence that merits and compels our favorable action."

The report then reviews the difficulty of enforcing the exclusion laws, and says that this makes it necessary that new legislation shall be comprehensive in its scope and effect, and for that reason the committee recommends the passage of the bill.

MANLEY NOT LIKELY TO ACCEPT

Offered Position of First Assistant Postmaster General.

Washington, March 18.—Joseph H. Manley, of Augusta, Me., the Maine member of the Republican national committee, is being pressed by the administration to accept the office of first assistant postmaster general, but it is not yet known whether Mr. Manley will accept the office. The office has not been formally tendered, but Mr. Manley has been approached on the subject, and Postmaster General Payne, with whom the Maine committeeman has been closely associated in a number of national campaigns, is anxious to have Mr. Manley accept. Though not finally determined, it is quite likely that Mr. Manley will not take the office, his private interests being in the way. Both Mr. Manley and the postmaster general yesterday declined to discuss the matter. Mr. Manley is here in the interest of some Augusta publications excluded under the new classification regulations of the department.

An Elephantine Nurse.

Miss S. F. Gordon-Cumming in her book on Ceylon gives a few lines to a pet elephant, who seems to have been a creature of much amiability and intelligence. He had been captured young and was known as Kurunegalia Jack. He used to go to the hospital rounds with his master, a medical officer, who had taught him to be generally useful, and even to administer pills. A Malay soldier one day dropped his pill, whereupon Jack picked it up and dropped it into the man's open mouth with a puff that blew it safely down.

The proposition for merging the old public library and the Carnegie library has reached a point where speedy action is imperative. Legislation will be required to increase the membership of the Carnegie library board, as is proposed, and the legislature is to remain in session but a short time. Moreover, the plans for the opening of the Carnegie library are being delayed and the work and influence of that institution will be hampered unless its future can be mapped out now. We have spoken plainly on the subject heretofore, and we now repeat that East Liverpool cannot afford to support two libraries, and there is no reason or necessity why it should attempt to do so. Most of the citizens favor the consolidation of the libraries, seeing in that method the best means of making them most useful. The Carnegie library is to be supported by the city and for the city, and its advantages will be open to the laboring man as well as to the capitalist. It is but right that the laboring men have their representatives upon its board, but it would not be right to have a board composed wholly of laboring men, any more than it would be right to have a board composed, for instance, wholly of manufacturers or of lawyers or physicians. Trades Council—at least a majority of it—seems satisfied that the proposition to give that body three representatives on the board, reserving six places for manufacturers, business and professional men, is eminently fair and just. The business which the library board member follows really matters little, provided he be a man of advanced ideas and ready at all times to work for the best interests of the library and of the city. It is a matter that there should be no dispute over. The old library has been useful, and its usefulness has not been forgotten. But a greater public library is about to be opened for the people; great enough to accommodate everybody. Its interests will be first with the public hereafter, as they should be. The old library can be made most useful only by merging it with the new one.

Signs multiply that any man who wants to work in East Liverpool the coming summer can find all the work he wants to do if he is a steady man and understands his business. Moreover, he will be reasonably sure of his pay, and at good wages. This city did something in the improvement line in 1901, but if the record is not broken in 1902 it will certainly be for some reason not now apparent.

"It is not surprising," remarks an exchange, "that there should be strikes this spring. They are natural in good times. Wage-earners have little fear then of losing their chances to make a living." True, but strikes are unfortunate at any time. A few weeks of idleness may eat up a year's savings, and even if the striker gains the advance he seeks, it is going to take a long time to put him where he stood before. Strikes are seldom profitable, as both labor and capital are learning.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. The Boer war has resulted in creating an extensive demand for American horses and mules and probably in increasing the price of both. Great Britain has bought in the United States and shipped to South Africa, since the beginning of the war there, 82,427 horses and 95,460 mules. The aggregate paid for the animals was $21,887,104 an average of $139 each.

The president of the Western Union Telegraph company, who began his career as a messenger boy, believes the chances for a young man to rise in the world are just as good as ever. When he says it all depends upon the man, he says all that is necessary on the subject. Golden opportunities were never greater for those who have the wit and the brains to seize them.

It is not a flattering commentary on fashionable American women to learn that the 300,000 dressmakers in this country find it necessary to organize an association to protect themselves from "dead beats" who order dresses and do not pay for them.

The British, it is reported, are buying bronchos in Montana for use in South Africa. It is hard to credit the statement. The British surely have troubles enough in Africa without importing them.

It is hard enough in most states to choose two United States senators. Mr. Penrose's plan to choose anywhere from six to 16 won't do.

The Cuban sugar question is not worrying the Ohio farmer who has a good maple sugar orchard on his premises.

The evening of St. Patrick's Day gave spring about as severe a setback as it has yet received.

AT THE THEATER

The second largest house in the history of the local theater greeted Arthur C. Aiston's "At the Old Cross Roads," which was presented here last night under the auspices of the ushers. The play is one of the very best that has ever been witnessed by the East Liverpool people, the cast being exceptionally strong and well balanced. The immense audience was delighted with the rendition, and all were unanimous in agreeing that it was "the sweetest story ever told."

Frank Keenan, who comes to the Grand Friday evening, is a player of experience and ability. "His performance of the title role in 'Hon. John Grigsby' is well considered in all matters, and commendable." So wrote Hillary Bell, the critic of the New York Press, on the occasion of Mr. Keenan's first stellar engagement in New York at the Manhattan theater, and this opinion was echoed by critics and public.

POTTERY NEWS

Great are the improvements that are to be made at the Benty pottery, although it be a small shop, containing no jiggers, lathes and but one kiln. Since the little plant was built nothing but a line of art ware has been made, which proved to be a good seller. Now a change is to be made, and one that will doubtless land the owners way up in the king row. A new gas engine is to be secured at once, also a new jigger and lathe. A line of white ware, consisting of plates, saucers, fruits and cups will be made. The little kiln will hold 200 saggars, it is said, and there will be no lost room in the kiln. The improvements will be completed within a month.

Nothing has been done recently by the Pennsylvania railroad company relative to the purchase of the property of the East Liverpool Sagger company, located in Pink alley. Several workmen are now engaged in taking up foundations upon which stood electrical machinery when the site was used for a light plant, but they are not being removed from the building. All the heaters placed in the building by the Sagger company have been demolished, which shows that a move will likely be made by the company.

After the program to govern the business of the next national meeting of the Brotherhood, has been completed, a copy of it will be sent to every local under the jurisdiction of the organization. If any change is suggested, notification may be sent to the head officials, who will in turn notify the local presenting the resolution. In this manner the business will be greatly facilitated, and the delegates will be advised beforehand about what matters will be up and when that order will be reached.

Gilders' local No. 19 last evening elected Joseph Burbick a delegate to Trades and Labor Council to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Stevenson, who will leave the city soon. Six new members were obligated, making a total membership of about 80.

W. P. Brown, salesman for the Dresden, who has been on the road for some time, returned from an extended trip, through the east Saturday. Mr. Brown stated business was quite good in his territory and the outlook for a continuance was good.

The Sevres China has just completed an order for the American Serial company. It consisted of 17,000 teas and a like number of fruits. Every piece was decorated, and the company had been working on the order for several weeks.

John Boulton, of Chester, a dipper at Laughlin No. 1, resumed work yesterday after being off since the recent flood. The dipping house here contained several feet of water during the flood, and the dipping room is still damp.

Charles McKenna, who has been working as a presser at the East Liverpool, will return to his former position at the McNicol next week. He has been helping out at the Pool for several weeks.

Word received in this city is to the effect that rapid progress is being made toward the completion of the new pottery at Barborton. Some of the machinery will be made in this city.

Cornelius Smith, who was injured by falling in a kiln at Brunt's, attempted to work Monday, but his leg was not strong enough to stand the strain. He was only able to work a few hours.

The National has been compelled to suspend work in a portion of its clay shop on account of a shortage of clay. The department will be in full operation within a short time, however.

Edward Downard, who has been employed as a saggermaker at Sebring for some time, has returned to this city, and will reside in the East End. He may start at Laughlins.

The Cartwright pottery is running full. A member of the firm stated that shipments were increasing, and the outlook for a good summer trade was indeed promising.

Local union No. 20, of Steubenville, elected the following delegates to the Trenton convention at its last meeting: W. N. Fleming, John Kidd, H. J. Goodman.

William Calhoun, formerly bench boss at Niles, and who has been at the Laughlin No. 2 for several weeks, is now located at the Smith and Phillips.

Charles Ohl, a jiggerman at the Dresden, who has been visiting with his wife at Wheeling for several days, returned to the city yesterday.

Tom Strain, of the glost end at the Globe, is now a member of the glost crew at Laughlin No. 2, under James Elliott.

William Dunn, a glost kilnhand at the Brunt, has been unable to work for several days on account of illness.

James Mahon, formerly a mould runner at the Vodrey, is now at the Liverpool, working for James Mount.

F. W. Fowler was in the city yesterday for a few hours on business. He went to Cumberland from here.

After being off for several days the big jigger at the East Liverpool has been placed in operation.

George Smith, who has been ill for several days, has resumed his place at the glost bench at Brunt's.

The clay hands at Laughlin No. 1, who have been idle for several days, resumed work yesterday.

Charles Martin, a glost kilnman at the McNicol, has resumed his bench after an illness.

George Lawton, mould maker at the East Liverpool, is off duty on account of illness.

John Orr, formerly of the McNicol, is now making saggars at Laughlin No. 2.

John Kagle, a presser at the Pool, is spending several days at Steubenville.

Jiggermen's local No. 12 will meet this evening.

The proposition for merging the old public library and the Carnegie library has reached a point where speedy action is imperative. Legislation will be required to increase the membership of the Carnegie library board, as is proposed, and the legislature is to remain in session but a short time. Moreover, the plans for the opening of the Carnegie library are being delayed and the work and influence of that institution will be hampered unless its future can be mapped out now. We have spoken plainly on the subject heretofore, and we now repeat that East Liverpool cannot afford to support two libraries, and there is no reason or necessity why it should attempt to do so. Most of the citizens favor the consolidation of the libraries, seeing in that method the best means of making them most useful. The Carnegie library is to be supported by the city and for the city, and its advantages will be open to the laboring man as well as to the capitalist. It is but right that the laboring men have their representatives upon its board, but it would not be right to have a board composed wholly of laboring men, any more than it would be right to have a board composed, for instance, wholly of manufacturers or of lawyers or physicians. Trades Council—at least a majority of it—seems satisfied that the proposition to give that body three representatives on the board, reserving six places for manufacturers, business and professional men, is eminently fair and just. The business which the library board member follows really matters little, provided he be a man of advanced ideas and ready at all times to work for the best interests of the library and of the city. It is a matter that there should be no dispute over. The old library has been useful, and its usefulness has not been forgotten. But a greater public library is about to be opened for the people; great enough to accommodate everybody. Its interests will be first with the public hereafter, as they should be. The old library can be made most useful only by merging it with the new one.

Signs multiply that any man who wants to work in East Liverpool the coming summer can find all the work he wants to do if he is a steady man and understands his business. Moreover, he will be reasonably sure of his pay, and at good wages. This city did something in the improvement line in 1901, but if the record is not broken in 1902 it will certainly be for some reason not now apparent.

"It is not surprising," remarks an exchange, "that there should be strikes this spring. They are natural in good times. Wage-earners have little fear then of losing their chances to make a living." True, but strikes are unfortunate at any time. A few weeks of idleness may eat up a year's savings, and even if the striker gains the advance he seeks, it is going to take a long time to put him where he stood before. Strikes are seldom profitable, as both labor and capital are learning.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. The Boer war has resulted in creating an extensive demand for American horses and mules and probably in increasing the price of both. Great Britain has bought in the United States and shipped to South Africa, since the beginning of the war there, 82,427 horses and 95,460 mules. The aggregate paid for the animals was $24,887,104 an average of $135 each.

The president of the Western Union Telegraph company, who began his career as a messenger boy, believes the chances for a young man to rise in the world are just as good as ever. When he says all that is necessary on the subject, Golden opportunities were never greater for those who have the wit and the brains to seize them.

It is not a flattering commentary on fashionable American women to learn that the 300,000 dressmakers in this country find it necessary to organize an association to protect themselves from "dead beats" who order dresses and do not pay for them.

The British, it is reported, are buying bronchos in Montana for use in South Africa. It is hard to credit the statement. The British surely have troubles enough in Africa without importing them.

It is hard enough in most states to choose two United States senators. Mr. Penrose's local to choose anywhere from six to 16 won't do.

The Cuban sugar question is not worrying the Ohio farmer who has a good maple sugar orchard on his premises.

The evening of St. Patrick's Day gave spring about as severe a backset as it has yet received.

AT THE THEATER

The second largest house in the history of the local theater greeted Arthur C. Aiston's "At the Old Cross Roads," which was presented here last night under the auspices of the ushers. The play is one of the very best that has ever been witnessed by the East Liverpool people, the cast being exceptionally strong and well balanced. The immense audience was delighted with the rendition, and all were unanimous in agreeing that it was "the sweetest story ever told."

Frank Keenan, who comes to the Grand Friday evening, is a player of experience and ability. "His performance of the title role in 'Hon. John Grigsby' is well considered in all matters, and commendable." So wrote Hillary Bell, the critic of the New York Press, on the occasion of Mr. Keenan's first stellar engagement in New York at the Manhattan theater, and this opinion was echoed by critics and public.

DAMAGE SUIT

CONSIDERED BY COUNCIL IN SECRET SESSION.

Lawson Bros. Claim Discussed—Various Matters Acted on in Open Session.

The city council held a secret session last evening in the mayor's sanctum for the purpose of taking action on the $3,000 damage suit filed against the city by Lawson Bros, but it is learned beyond doubt that the solons made no agreement whatever in regard to the matter.

Lawson Bros, having proven themselves adverse to making a mutual settlement, it is said that council will leave the case for settlement by the court at Lisbon. The suit arises out of a fall made by the city on Third street.

After this session an open session was held. The city engineer was ordered to have the grade line on Clark avenue changed from 19th to 22d street. A petition signed by the property owners along Eve alley was read and in consequence the alley will be paved. The water course on Bunting's run will be changed so that it will run along 22d street.

A letter from the Cleveland work house authorities was read. It stated that prisoners are received there for 35 cents per day. Action was deferred. A committee was appointed to buy a street sweeper.

A city team will be bought or hired to haul the refuse from the streets. Side-walks on the county road to the corporation line will be laid. Storm gates will be placed at the mouth of each storm sewer.

The gas companies will be notified to fill holes left by them in the streets. Supt. Healy will be ordered to have the feed wires within the corporation insulated or remove them.

FINALLY SETTLED

Charles Mick Will Soon Receive $4,000 For His Serious Injuries.

Charles Mick, the lad permanently injured last fall by the uninsulated feed wire in the watering trough on the Lisbon road, will receive immediately the $4,000 from the telephone company and the United Power company, that being the amount agreed upon as a settlement for the injuries.

The settlement was made several weeks ago. The case was revived last week when Mick's attorneys called upon the defense for the money. They refused to give a check for it and the case was set for another hearing tomorrow, but another move has been made and the case settled, probably for its last time.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

Rev. Charles W. Swan Dismissed to the Wooster Presbytery.

The Presbytery of Steubenville held a special meeting at the home of C. L. V. McKee yesterday afternoon and after receiving Rev. Charles W. Swan from the Presbytery of Canton, China, dismissed him to the Presbytery of Wooster. Mr. Swan has been called to the church at Shreve, O. Those present at the meeting were Rev. C. L. V. McKee; Rev. J. N. Swan, Rev. N. M. Crowe and Rev. John S. Hamilton, of East Liverpool; Rev. T. J. Gray, of Bethel church.

Weeden-Watson Concert.

The concert given in the high school building last evening was a complete success. The vocal singing by W. C. Weeden and the instrumental playing by Miss Alice Watson were highly enjoyed. The process of the affair will be used by the Freshman class in purchasing ornaments for the high school room.

The first letter was a long one on a topic with which the new postmaster general was not familiar and so formal, legal and involved that one reading did not make its meaning clear. Mr. Hatton hesitated, wrinkled his forehead and mused to himself:

"What's this all about anyway? It's all news to me. I don't know whether I approve of the things it says or not. I can't make head or tail out of it. I don't know whether it's a good thing or not."

Storing Oxygen in the Blood.

Professional divers, who remain under water from two to five minutes at a time, are accustomed before submerging themselves to take deep inspirations for ten minutes. The object is said to be to store up oxygen, not in the lung cells, but in the blood corpuscles. This renders a temporary suspension of the breathing possible by supplying the corpuscles with an extra quantity of oxygen, to be exchanged chemically with the carbonic acid, produced by vital processes, in the blood.

A CHURCH LIGHTHOUSE.

Charleston, S. C., Has the Only One in the World.

The only church in the world so far as is known that is also a lighthouse is St. Philip's church, Charleston, S. C.

St. Philip's, which is one of the oldest churches in America, is known as the "Westminster abbey of South Carolina," because within and about its walls so many distinguished men lie buried, including John C. Calhoun. The history of the old church is closely interwoven with that of South Carolina, and many of the most celebrated events in the history of the province are connected with it.

It is one of the sights of Charleston, and strangers are always taken to see it and shown its graves and monuments.

The most remarkable feature of the old church, however, is the fact that its lofty steeple serves the purpose of a lighthouse and is used to guide the seafarer and mariner safely into the port of Charleston. The use of the steeple as a lighthouse dates back to 1804, when the United States lighthouse department succeeded by dint of repeated efforts in inducing the vestry of the old church to allow a lantern to be placed in the upper story of the steeple to be used as a range light for vessels entering the harbor through the jetties at its mouth.

The light used is very powerful and is placed at an altitude of about 125 feet above the ground, so that it is easily visible thirty miles at sea. Ships making for Charleston harbor at night always keep a sharp lookout for St. Philip's light and as soon as they sight it get it into line with the beacon on Fort Sumter and then make a straightaway run for the mouth of the jetties and up through them into the harbor of Charleston.

St. Philip's church steeple is considered one of the handsomest architectural features in the world and always attracts the eye of strangers entering Charleston from the sea by its commanding height and artistic proportions.—St. Louis Republic.

NATURAL HISTORY.

There are forty-eight different kinds of house fly known and classified.

The pig is the only domestic animal in which no case of cancer has been noted.

The Spanish mackerel is one of the fastest of food fishes and cuts the water like a yacht.

Fish swallow their food whole because they are obliged to keep continually opening and closing the mouth for the purpose of respiration.

Siamese cats, both in appearance and character, closely resemble pug dogs. Even their tails have the curious curl so familiar in these stolid dogs.

Animals are found to be subject to hypnotic influence. Lobsters, it is said, can be hypnotized by standing them on their heads five or ten minutes.

There is no wild breed of fowl to which the Brahma or Cochon can be traced. The gamecock seems to be descended from the Cingalese jungle fowl.

The flesh fly produces about 20,000 young in a season. The larvae are hatched almost instantly from the egg and at once begin their work of destruction.

LUNGS THAT ARE LAZY.

Their Owners Digest Poorly and Catch Cold Easily.

Fresh air is a free gift, but it is like most of the gifts of heaven in that we must do our share of work to benefit by it. No one would expect to have a good fire just because a pair of bellows hung on a nail by the chimney, but this is exactly what many people expect of their lungs, which are really only the bellows given us by which to keep the fire of life burning bright and clear within us.

It is not too much to assert that lungs properly used in a comparatively close room will do more good than lazy lungs in an open field. This trick of lazy lungs is a habit, like any other, and may be overcome by persistent effort. Many persons, for example, are afflicted with a nervous habit of holding the breath unconsciously. These are the people who, in spite of plenty of time spent out of doors, yet catch cold easily.

ly, digest poorly and are always more or less "under the weather" physically.

Many other persons—and they constitute the great majority of mankind—breathe only with the upper part of the lungs and although they may breathe regularly do not draw in sufficient air at a breath to fill all the lung cells.

When once the pernicious habit of poor, shallow breathing has been broken up, the health undergoes such marked improvement, there is such brightening of the spirits and improvement of the looks, that the luxury of deep breathing is not likely to be readily foregone.

A good way to start the new habit is to take deliberately a few minutes at stated intervals and devote them to proper breathing. If this is done systematically, the reformer will find himself unconsciously breathing more and more, until very soon he is obeying nature and really breathing to live.

Besides the gain to the general health which comes from the habit of deep breathing there is created a reserve strength and preparedness which is often of great service in warding off acute pulmonary diseases.—Youth's Companion.

Queer Freaks of Flowers.

"Why is it," complained the man with a grouch to a restaurant keeper yesterday, "that you fellers hardly ever have any flowers in your old joints?"

The hash founder looked up. "Flowers won't live in restaurants," he said. "The smoke and odor of the cooking seems to smother them, and they never thrive. I've tried it dozens of times, and always with the same result. Put flowers in a saloon, though, and they grow and bloom in splendid shape. The tobacco smoke, I suppose, serves as a fumigator, and the fumes of the liquor apparently stimulate them. If you want to make a success of flowers, put them in a grogshop. To stunt or kill them, a restaurant is the best ever."—Duluth News-Tribune.

Performed a Filled Duty.

Joe was such a pathetic little man. He came from a quarter of the city where crime and misery had formed a background for the five weary years of his unnatural little life. He was late to kindergarten one morning and was asked to sit by the door until the morning exercises were over. Before being restored to grace the teacher asked him why he was so late. "Well," replied Joe, "the patrol came after my mother, and I waited to see her off."—Chicago Tribune.

DAMAGE SUIT

CONSIDERED BY COUNCIL IN SECRET SESSION.

Lawson Bros.' Claim Discussed—Various Matters Acted on in Open Session.

The city council held a secret session last evening in the mayor's sanctum for the purpose of taking action on the $3,000 damage suit filed against the city by Lawson Bros., but it is learned beyond doubt that the solons made no agreement whatever in regard to the matter.

Lawson Bros., having proven themselves adverse to making a mutual settlement, it is said that council will leave the case for settlement by the court at Lisbon. The suit arises out of a fire made by the city on Third street.

After this session an open session was held. The city engineer was ordered to have the grade line on Clark avenue changed from 10th to 22d street. A petition signed by the property owners along Eve alley was read and in consequence the alley will be paved. The water course on Bunting's run will be changed so that it will run along 22d street.

A letter from the Cleveland work house authorities was read. It stated that prisoners are received there for 35 cents per day. Action was deferred. A committee was appointed to buy a street sweeper.

A city team will be bought or hired to haul the refuse from the streets. Sidewalks on the county road to the corporation line will be laid. Storm gates will be placed at the mouth of each storm sewer.

The gas companies will be notified to fill holes left by them in the streets. Supt. Healy will be ordered to have the feed wires within the corporation insulated or remove them.

FINALLY SETTLED

Charles Mick Will Soon Receive $4,000 For His Serious Injuries.

Charles Mick, the lad permanently injured last fall by the uninsulated feed wire in the watering trough on the Lisbon road, will receive immediately the $4,000 from the telephone company and the United Power company, that being the amount agreed upon as a settlement for the injuries.

The settlement was made several weeks ago. The case was revived last week when Mick's attorneys called upon the defense for the money. They refused to give a check for it and the case was set for another hearing tomorrow, but another move has been made and the case settled, probably for its last time.

PRESBYTERY MEETING

Rev. Charles W. Swan Dismissed to the Wooster Presbytery.

The Presbytery of Steubenville held a special meeting at the home of C. L. V. McKee yesterday afternoon and after receiving Rev. Charles W. Swan from the Presbytery of Canton, China, dismissed him to the Presbytery of Wooster. Mr. Swan has been called to the church at Shreve, O. Those present at the meeting were Rev. C. L. V. McKee; Rev. J. N. Swan, Rev. N. M. Crowe and Rev. John S. Hamilton, of East Liverpool; Rev. T. J. Gray, of Bethel church.

Weeden-Watson Concert.

The concert given in the high school building last evening was a complete success. The vocal singing by W. C. Weeden and the instrumental playing by Miss Alice Watson were highly enjoyed. The process of the affair will be used by the Freshman class in purchasing ornaments for the high school room.

The use of the steeple as a lighthouse dates back to 1804, when the United States lighthouse department succeeded by dint of repeated efforts in inducing the vestry of the old church to allow a lantern to be placed in the upper story of the steeple to be used as a range light for vessels entering the harbor through the jetties at its mouth.

The light used is very powerful and is placed at an altitude of about 125 feet above the ground, so that it is easily visible thirty miles at sea. Ships making for Charleston harbor at night always keep a sharp lookout for St. Philip's light and as soon as they sight it get it into line with the beacon on Fort Sumter and then make a straight-away run for the mouth of the jetties and up through them into the harbor of Charleston.

St. Philip's church steeple is considered one of the handsomest architecturally in the world and always attracts the eye of strangers entering Charleston from the sea by its commanding height and artistic proportions.—St. Louis Republic.

NATURAL HISTORY.

There are forty-eight different kinds of house fly known and classified.

The pig is the only domestic animal in which no case of cancer has been noted.

The Spanish mackerel is one of the fastest of food fishes and cuts the water like a yacht.

Fish swallow their food whole because they are obliged to keep continually opening and closing the mouth for the purpose of respiration.

Siamese cats, both in appearance and character, closely resemble pug dogs. Even their tails have the curious curl so familiar in these stolid dogs.

Animals are found to be subject to hypnotic influence. Lobsters, it is said, can be hypnotized by standing them on their heads five or ten minutes.

There is no wild breed of fowl to which the Brahma or Cochinchina can be traced. The gamecock seems to be descended from the Cingalese jungle fowl.

The flesh fly produces about 20,000 young in a season. The larvae are hatched almost instantly from the egg and at once begin their work of destruction.

LUNGS THAT ARE LAZY.

Their Owners Digest Poorly and Catch Cold Easily.

Fresh air is a free gift, but it is like most of the gifts of heaven in that we must do our share of work to benefit by it. No one would expect to have a good fire just because a pair of bellows hung on a nail by the chimney, but this is exactly what many people expect of their lungs, which are really only the bellows given us by which to keep the fire of life burning bright and clear within us.

It is not too much to assert that lungs properly used in a comparatively close room will do more good than lazy lungs in an open field. This trick of lazy lungs is a habit, like any other, and may be overcome by persistent effort. Many persons, for example, are afflicted with a nervous habit of holding the breath unconsciously. These are the people who, in spite of plenty of time spent out of doors, yet catch cold easily.

ly, digest poorly and are always more or less "under the weather" physically.

Many other persons—and they constitute the great majority of mankind—breathe only with the upper part of the lungs and although they may breathe regularly do not draw in sufficient air at a breath to fill all the lung cells.

When once the pernicious habit of poor, shallow breathing has been broken up, the health undergoes such marked improvement, there is such brightening of the spirits and improvement of the looks, that the luxury of deep breathing is not likely to be readily foregone.

A good way to start the new habit is to take deliberately a few minutes at stated intervals and devote them to proper breathing. If this is done systematically, the reformer will find himself unconsciously breathing more and more, until very soon he is obeying nature and really breathing to live.

Besides the gain to the general health which comes from the habit of deep breathing there is created a reserve strength and preparedness which is often of great service in warding off acute pulmonary diseases.—Youth's Companion.

Queer Freaks of Flowers.

"Why is it?" complained the man with a grouse to a restaurant keeper yesterday, "that you fellows hardly ever have any flowers in your old joints?"

"The hash founder looked up. 'Flowers won't live in restaurants,' he said. 'The smoke and odor of the cooking seems to smother them, and they never thrive. I've tried it dozens of times, and always with the same result. Put flowers in a saloon, though, and they grow and bloom in splendid shape. The tobacco smoke, I suppose, serves as a fumigator, and the fumes of the liquor apparently stimulate them. If you want to make a success of flowers, put them in a grogshop. To stunt or kill them, a restaurant is the best ever.'—Duluth News-Tribune.

Performed a Filial Duty.

Joe was such a pathetic little man. He came from a quarter of the city where crime and misery had formed a background for the five weary years of his unnatural little life. He was late to kindergarten one morning and was asked to sit by the door until the morning exercises were over. Before being restored to grace the teacher asked him why he was so late. "Well," replied Joe, "the patrol came after my mother, and I waited to see her off."—Chicago Tribune.

PEACOCK MAY TALK LATER.

Refused to Discuss Kidnaping Matter. Pittsburgher in New York With His Family.

New York, March 18.—A. R. Peacock, former vice president and general manager of the Carnegie Steel company, who, according to Pittsburgh reports, recently brought his family to this city to escape kidnapers who threatened to abduct and murder his three children unless he paid them $2,500, was seen at the Holland house yesterday. He, his wife and three children, Grant, 14 years old; A. R. Jr., aged 10, and Irene, aged 2, are stopping at the hotel.

Mr. Peacock was with H. C. Frick, of Pittsburgh. Both declared that, at this time, they were disinclined to talk of the kidnaping matter.

"I have nothing to say about it; I simply will not talk," said Mr. Peacock. He added that he might make a statement later. He and Mr. Frick then boarded a Broadway street car for a trip down town.

The Pittsburgh detectives think that within a few days they will arrest the man who, about the middle of January, was the author of two threatening letters to A. R. Peacock. The letters demanded money, the first one asking $1,000, on penalty of kidnaping Mr. Peacock's children, and the second $1,500, on penalty of having the children murdered unless the money was quickly forthcoming. The detectives think they have evidence that will lead to the arrest of a colored man now in Allegheny.

The writer of the letter demanded that the ransom be placed in a lonely spot near the Peacock home. A dummy package was left, watched by a detective, in response to the first letter, but it was not taken. The second letter demanded that no detective be sent with the second package of money.

REPUBLICANS CRITICISED

For Failure to Allow Congress to Express Sympathy With Boers.

Washington, March 18.—The house yesterday began consideration of the river and harbor bill. Mr. Burton, of Ohio, made an extended speech in explanation of the measure, in the course of which he presented many interesting facts relative to it. Several other members spoke briefly on the measure among them being Mr. Bellamy, of North Carolina, who protested against the treatment his state had received. Mr. Foster, of Illinois, and Mr. Cochran, of Missouri, discussed the Boer war, criticising the majority seriously for failure to allow congress to express the sympathy of the American people with the struggling republics. At the conclusion of the proceedings yesterday Mr. Wachtler, of Maryland, denied a newspaper story to the effect that Speaker Henderson had attempted to influence his course on the question of Cuban reciprocity.

MINING SCALE NOT DECIDED.

Altoona Coal Wage Conference Postponed—Robinson Obstructing Settlement.

Altoona, Pa., March 18.—Unable to come to any agreement after a dead lock on the scale for four days, the miners and operators agreed to let matters rest temporarily, and on March 25 they will try it again. The adjournment was caused by the inability of National President John Mitchell to be present and coach the miners and plead with the operators. He is due at Shamokin this week.

Mitchell stopped off here several hours yesterday en route to Shamokin and conferred with the district leaders. Afterwards he made a plea to the operators for settlement and spoke to the miners, who gave him a rousing welcome. He counselled them to accept anything that was fair. The miners then formulated their ultimatum, which the operators rejected. It seems that L. W. Robinson, of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal company, is the stumbling block in the way of an amicable settlement. He

Germany's Stand During The Spanish War

By ANDREW D. WHITE, American Ambassador to Germany

SUNDRY European writers have been especially eloquent in denouncing the general hatred of Germany and the Germans which they insist obtains in the United States. MUCH HAS BEEN SAID OF "DEUTSCHEN HETZE" (GERMAN BAITING), and this has been placed in such a lurid light that one would almost believe that on the appearance of one of our German-American fellow citizens upon the streets of an American city the citizens of American birth were ready to cry havoc and let loose on him the dogs of war.

I can most truthfully say that I have failed to find the slightest trace of such "Deutschen Hetze." I have not discovered anything like hatred or a persecuting spirit toward the German-Americans on the American continent. Even if there were no other reasons, the Americans are too busy and too good natured for an amusement of that kind.

It has been insisted by more or less well meaning people in the United States that a dark cloud between the two countries really exists and that during our Spanish war the German government was somewhat hostile to the United States or did something which it ought not to have done and left undone something which it ought to have done.

THE CONDUCT OF THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT TOWARD US DURING THE SPANISH WAR WAS EXCELLENT. THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT OBSERVED A STRICT NEUTRALITY AND SHOWED NO UNFRIENDLY SPIRIT. FROM FIRST TO LAST IT NEVER MADE ANY SUGGESTIONS OR PROPOSALS THAT EMBARRASSED US IN THE SLIGHTEST DEGREE.

Some self constituted guardians of the welfare of the United States have insisted that it was the honored and revered sovereign of the German empire who spread this cloud over the relations of the two nations by promoting or, if not promoting, by joining in a league to intervene to stop the war. Of late, however, all this has been cleared away, and it has been shown beyond a doubt that the revered and beloved sovereign of Germany refused to take part in anything which could be construed as interference in the contest, and refused in such a manner as to show that he respected the motives and appreciated the feelings of the American government.

has secured some concessions from his miners that he claims he is entitled to. He refused to sign the scale that both miners and operators agreed to because it took these concessions from him. The other operators refused to sign unless Robinson would.

All the delegates will return for the final conference. President Mitchell and Secretary-Treasurer Wilson will also be here. It is expected that the latter gentlemen will succeed in effecting a satisfactory settlement.

TWELVE PERSONS DROWNED.

Life Savers and Stranded Seamen Perished—Cleveland Man Among the Lost.

Chatham, Mass., March 18.—Seven life savers, practically the entire crew of the Monomoy station, on the South end of Cape Cod, met death yesterday at their post of duty, and with them into the sea, which capsize the life boat, went five men from the stranded barge Wadena, whom they tried to bring in safety to the shore.

One man, Lemuel Ellis, through the heroic work of Captain Elmer Mayo of another stranded barge, the John C. Fitzpatrick, was rescued from the bottom of the upturned life boat. Among those lost was William H. Mack, of Cleveland, O., who was on the barge representing his company, the Boutell Towing and Transportation company of that city, while Captain Marshall N. Eldredge, one of the oldest life savers on the coast, went down with his men. All the life savers came from Chatham and Harwich.

Boston, March 18.—A postal card from Miss Ellen M. Stone, the missionary to Bulgaria, was received by her mother yesterday, it being the first message by mail from her since her release. She writes:

The American board received a postal yesterday from the Rev. F. B. Haskell, of Solonica, dated March 1, which says:

PROLONGED BY YEARS.

Short Lives Lengthened By Removing Cause of Disease.

Many Glowing Tributes Paid to Blood Wine. The Great French Discovery, Which Cures Colds, Consumption, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, etc.

That "Blood Wine" fully comes up to the expectations of our people is evidenced by the expression of satisfaction from the many who have already given it a test. "If I had to go without some of the necessities of life, I would have 'Blood Wine' in the house," said a certain gentleman living in the northern part of the city. It wards off coughs, colds, indigestion, bowel troubles and a dozen and one other diseases that are apt to attack any one. "A bottle of good medicine always handy is the 'stitch in time' that saves suffering and misery, and this is just the kind of medicine that will do it." To begin away down at the roots of any sickness, what is the first step to be taken? "Purify the blood," is the answer from every physician. Regulate the bowels and purify the blood. Microbes, bacteria, E. coli and all kinds of germs float through the system in the blood.

Just stop and reason it out; think of your blood teeming with these myriads of little demons, floating hither and thither like wreckage on a great ocean, to be cast up against the delicate organs of the system where they find lodging places, stay, thrive and breed, perhaps in the lungs, perhaps in the throat, kidneys, heart or tender tissues of the body anywhere. This is the beginning of trouble. Cleanse your blood and you purify the whole system.

With pure blood and a good circulation no one ever contracted consumption or other fatal disease. "Blood Wine" gives new life because it makes new blood. It brings rest and quiet because it soothes the nerves; it creates a good appetite by toning up the digestive organs; it regulates the system by producing healthy, regular operations of the bowels. It kills that tired feeling and makes one feel like running, jumping and exercising; it gives elasticity to the body by acting directly on the muscles and causing them to respond to the mind's dictates. One teaspoonful of "Blood Wine" makes the blood tingle; it is instantaneous in its action and leaves no room for doubt. It contains no wine or opiates.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle but you can sample it at Will Reed and Hodson's drug stores, free of charge. It stands on its own merits; it is the only medicine that has ever been placed on sale with the local dealer authorized to keep a bottle of it always open to be administered to anyone free of cost.

BASKET COMPANY SHARES at 50 CTS.

Truth About Recent Advances.—Reasons Why a Further Rise to and Beyond Par is Inevitable.

Shares in the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company have advanced to 50 cts. (par value, $1.00 full paid and non-assessable.) The rise is due to popular appreciation of opportunity. Such opportunities usually go to a Syndicate of Capitalists.

This one has been offered direct to the public, and prompt advantage has been taken of it. It has become "THE PEOPLES' TRUST."

The proposition of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company is one of automatic machine work as opposed to hand labor, and none of the noted labor-saving machines familiar to every one can compare in effectiveness and practical accomplishment with the basket-making machines which this Company owns and controls.

THE MERGENTHALER LINOTYPE, which does the work of four or five men, pays a steady dividend of twenty per cent on ten millions of capital.

THE HARVESTING MACHINES, which cut the country's grain, require two horses and one man to do the work of six men, but these machines made the McCormick millions.

THE SEWING MACHINE, which works five times as fast as the seamstress, built palaces and supports whole townships with its earnings.

But the Basket-making Machines of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company are so efficient and so perfectly automatic that with each of them ONE GIRL DOES THE WORK OF TWELVE MEN.

COMPANY CONTROLS ITS OWN FIELD. In addition to the great saving of labor, which would commend these machines as an investment to every business man and every thinking person, there is the most important fact that the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company will absolutely control the industry which employs the machines. IT WILL DO THE BUSINESS ITSELF. Its model factories will be set up on a scale commensurate with the great scope of the Company's field of work, and will manufacture from raw material and deliver to the fruit grower every basket needed for the moving and marketing of every ounce of fruit produced. IN THIS WAY the full control of prices, of product and of profit will be retained by the giant organization which represents the people, who are alive to the merit of a proposition stronger than any which has ever been offered to the public for popular subscription.

A proposition controlling an industry of which the present and immediate PROFITS ARE OVER $4,000,000 A YEAR, and the demand for fruit baskets of all kinds is increasing at the rate of 150,000,000 baskets a year. Already there are six thousand shareholders in this great Corporation.

Already the plans of the Company are taking definite form in negotiations which are nearing completion and which, when announced, will drive the selling price of the shares higher and higher.

FACTS THAT COUNT. The actual yearly demand exceeds Two Billion Baskets. Value at wholesale, Eleven Million Dollars. The net profit on this volume of business last year was $1,387,000. The Baskets were all made by hand. Each Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine does the work of twelve men. The saving in labor by the use of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machines amounts to more than TWO MILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY. This gives earnings for the company of OVER THREE MILLION THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, OR OVER THIRTY-THREE PER CENT ON THE ENTIRE CAPITAL.

DOUBLING THEIR MONEY. Follow the steps taken by the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company and it will be seen that every step has been in exact accord with its announcements. Early shareholders now see their shares double in value. New subscribers will see their shares double in value, and still the limit of price for these shares will not be reached, because just as surely as the Linotype Machine pays its shareholders twenty per cent on ten millions of capital, JUST SO SURELY WILL THE AUTOMATIC BASKET-MAKING MACHINES WHICH SAVE THREE TIMES AS MUCH LABOR AS THE LINOTYPE, EARN DIVIDENDS WHICH WILL MAKE THE SHARES OF THE MERGENTHALER-HORTON BASKET MACHINE COMPANY SOUGHT FOR AT PRICES WHICH ARE BEYOND PRESENT COMPUTATION.

SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE. All the stock of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company is common stock. No person has any advantage over another person. These are no bonds, no debts, no preferred stock. Every shareholder gets the same proportionate voice in the affairs of the Company, and the same proportionate profit out of its earnings. The Company is justly styled THE PEOPLES' TRUST.

Subscribers to the stock of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company may send or bring their subscriptions to any office of the Company. Checks, drafts, and money orders should be drawn to the order of CHARLES R. BARLOW, Treasurer. No subscription accepted for less than 50 shares.

How an Elephant Grows.

While we must not overlook the difference between the supply of food in nature and captivity as well as the equally different conditions of both food and exercise in either state, it is somewhat interesting to note the increase in weight and height of a young Indian elephant in captivity, a state to which it was brought when about fifteen months old. During nearly a couple of years the captive put on nearly half a ton (to be more accurate, some 1,100 pounds of avoirdupois) and not far short of eighteen inches. The increase in both weight and height was greatest in the early months and slower in both cases as time went on, and the greatest gain in any single month was ninety pounds and four inches. Considering the immense rations given to elephants in menageries, it may be thought, perhaps, that the results are none too great for the cost. Yet to gain ninety pounds in a single month is prodigious all the same.

No Excuse This Time.

"It was a new gun, your honor," protested the prisoner, "and I did not know it was loaded."

"But," argued the judge, "he dealer has just told us that you did not pay for the weapon."

"What has that to do with it?" "Well, if you didn't pay for it the dealer must have charged it for you." And the judge tried to look as much like the pictures of Solomon as he could.—Baltimore American.

Exhausted and irritable conditions of the nervous system produce headaches. The cure is to restore the action of the nerves to their normal condition and give the heart a tonic. Clinic Headache Wafers are just this cure; they act on the nerves and are a tonic to the heart. Absolutely harmless, 10 cents at all druggists.

Naturally desire to see the grandest and most impressive scenery en route. This you will do by selecting the Denver & Rio Grande and Rio Grande Western, "The Scenic Line of the World," in one or both directions, as this line has two separate routes across the Rocky mountains between Denver and Ogden. Tickets reading via this route are available either via its main line through the Royal George, Leadville, over Tennessee Pass, through the Canon of the Grand river and Glenwood Springs, or via the line over Marshall Pass and through the Black Canon of the Gunnison, thus enabling the traveler to use one of the above routes going and the other returning. Three splendidly equipped fast trains are operated to and from the Pacific coast, which carry through standard sleepers daily between Chicago, St. Louis, Denver and San Francisco. Dining cars (service a la carte) on all through trains. If you contemplate such a trip, let us send you beautifully illustrated pamphlets, free. S. K. Hooper, G. P. & T. A., Denver, Col. 7-12-34

PROLONGED BY YEARS.

Short Lives Lengthened By Removing Cause of Disease.

Many Glowing Tributes Paid to Blood Wine. The Great French Discovery, Which Cures Colds, Consumption, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, etc.

That "Blood Wine" fully comes up to the expectations of our people is evidenced by the expression of satisfaction from the many who have already given it a test. "If I had to go without some of the necessities of life, I would have 'Blood Wine' in the house," said a certain gentleman living in the northern part of the city. It wards off coughs, colds, indigestion, bowel troubles and a dozen and one other diseases that are apt to attack any one. "A bottle of good medicine always handy is the 'stitch in time' that saves suffering and misery; and this is just the kind of medicine that will do it." To begin away down at the roots of any sickness, what is the first step to be taken? "Purify the blood," is the answer from every physician. Regulate the bowels and purify the blood. Microbes, bacteria, E. coli and all kinds of germs float through the system in the blood.

Just stop and reason it out; think of your blood teeming with these myriads of little demons, floating hither and thither like wreckage on a great ocean, to be cast up against the delicate organs of the system where they find lodging places, stay, thrive and breed, perhaps in the lungs, perhaps in the throat, kidneys, heart or tender tissues of the body anywhere. This is the beginning of trouble. Cleanse your blood and you purify the whole system.

With pure blood and a good circulation no one ever contracted consumption or other fatal disease. "Blood Wine" gives new life because it makes new blood. It brings rest and quiet because it soothes the nerves; it creates a good appetite by toning up the digestive organs; it regulates the system by producing healthy, regular operations of the bowels. It kills that tired feeling and makes one feel like running, jumping and exercising; it gives elasticity to the body by acting directly on the muscles and causing them to respond to the mind's dictates. One teaspoonful of "Blood Wine" makes the blood tingle; it is instantaneous in its action and leaves no room for doubt. It contains no wine or opiates.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle but you can sample it at Will Reed and Hodson's drug stores, free of charge. It stands on its own merits; it is the only medicine that has ever been placed on sale with the local dealer authorized to keep a bottle of it always open to be administered to anyone free of cost.

BASKET COMPANY SHARES at 50 CTS.

Truth About Recent Advances.—Reasons Why a Further Rise to and Beyond Par is Inevitable.

Shares in the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company have advanced to 50 cts. (par value, $1.00 full paid and non-assessable.) The rise is due to popular appreciation of opportunity. Such opportunities usually go to a Syndicate of Capitalists.

This one has been offered direct to the public, and prompt advantage has been taken of it. It has become "THE PEOPLES' TRUST."

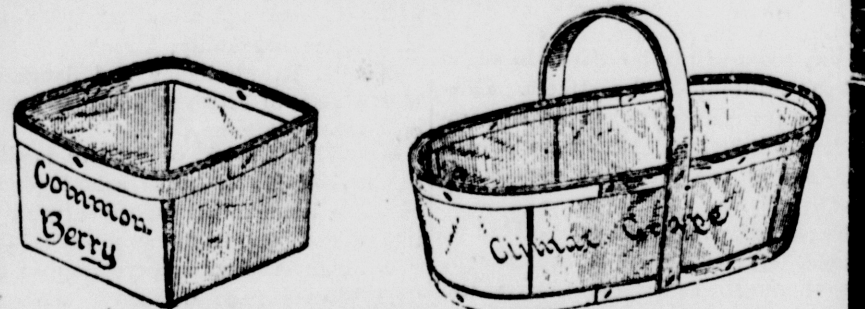

The proposition of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company is one of automatic machine work as opposed to hand labor, and none of the noted labor-saving machines familiar to every one can compare in effectiveness and practical accomplishment with the basket-making machines which this Company owns and controls.

THE MERGENTHALER LINOTYPE, which does the work of four or five men, pays a steady dividend of twenty per cent on ten millions of capital.

THE HARVESTING MACHINES which cut the country's grain, require two horses and one man to do the work of six men, but these machines made the McCormick millions.

THE SEWING MACHINE, which works five times as fast as the seamstress, built palaces and supports whole townships with its earnings.

But the Basket-making Machines of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company are so efficient and so perfectly automatic that with each of them ONE GIRL DOES THE WORK OF TWELVE MEN.

COMPANY CONTROLS ITS OWN FIELD.

In addition to the great saving of labor, which would commend these machines as an investment to every business man and every thinking person, there is the most important fact that the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company will absolutely control the industry which employs the machines. IT WILL DO THE BUSINESS ITSELF. Its model factories will be set up on a scale commensurate with the great scope of the Company's field of work, and will manufacture from raw material and deliver to the fruit grower every basket needed for the moving and marketing of every ounce of fruit produced.

IN THIS WAY the full control of prices, of product and of profit will be retained by the giant organization which represents the people, who are alive to the merit of a proposition stronger than any which has ever been offered to the public for popular subscription.

A proposition controlling an industry of which the present and immediate PROFITS ARE OVER $4,000,000 A YEAR, and the demand for fruit baskets of all kinds is increasing at the rate of 150,000,000 baskets a year. Already there are six thousand shareholders in this great Corporation.

Already the plans of the Company are taking definite form in negotiations which are nearing completion and which, when announced, will drive the selling price of the shares higher and higher.

FACTS THAT COUNT.

The actual yearly demand exceeds Two Billion Baskets. Value at wholesale, Eleven Million Dollars.

The net profit on this volume of business last year was $1,387,000.

The Baskets were all made by hand. Each Mergenthaler-Horton Company machine does the work of twelve men.

The saving in labor by the use of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machines amounts to more than TWO MILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY.

This gives earnings for the company of OVER THREE MILLION THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, OR OVER THIRTY-THREE PER CENT ON THE ENTIRE CAPITAL ON THE PRESENT VOLUME OF BUSINESS.

The machines may be seen in operation at the Robinson Basket Company's factory, Painesville, O., where over thirty are installed; at Elmira, N. Y., at the machine shops of L. E. Hart, one of the inventors, and at Folsom, N. Y., where they are also in operation.

The practical working of the machines is now shown in every office of the Company named below. The Company will not sell or lease its machines, but will equip and operate basket factories all over this country.

DOUBLING THEIR MONEY.

Follow the steps taken by the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company and it will be seen that every step has been in exact accord with its announcements. Early shareholders now see their shares double in value. New subscribers will see their shares double in value, and still the limit of price for these shares will not be reached, because just as surely as the Linotype Machine pays its shareholders twenty per cent on ten millions of capital, JUST SO SURELY WILL THE AUTOMATIC BASKET-MAKING MACHINES WHICH SAVE THREE TIMES AS MUCH LABOR AS THE LINOTYPE, EARN DIVIDENDS WHICH WILL MAKE THE SHARES OF THE MERGENTHALER-HORTON BASKET MACHINE COMPANY SOUGHT FOR AT PRICES WHICH ARE BEYOND PRESENT COMPUTATION.

SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE.

All the stock of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company is common stock. No person has any advantage over another person. These are no bonds, no debts, no preferred stock. Every shareholder gets the same proportionate voice in the affairs of the Company, and the same proportionate profit out of its earnings. The Company is justly styled THE PEOPLES' TRUST.

Subscribers to the stock of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company may send or bring their subscriptions to any office of the Company. Checks, drafts, and money orders should be drawn to the order of CHARLES R. BARLOW, Treasurer. No subscription accepted for less than 50 shares.

BEHAVIOR OF CROWDS

One Thing That impressed
Prince Henry, During
His Visit.

SOME FACES IMPRESSED HIM

Strong, Beautiful and Spiritual Casts
of Countenance He Occasionally
Saw—Would Like to Have Become Acquainted With These Persons.

Cherbourg, France, March 18.—The arrangements made by Emperor William for the reception of Prince Henry when the latter arrives at Cuxhaven were communicated to the prince after the Deutschland left Plymouth. Prince Henry expressed himself as greatly pleased therewith. He interprets the elaborate plans of Emperor William as an expression of his majesty's complete satisfaction at the success of the prince's American trip.

Prince Was Very Tired.

Prince Henry says he was so tired when he finally boarded the Deutschland at New York that he slept at most continuously for 48 hours, except for the time he appeared for his meals or to take short walks on the bridge. He says he never worked so hard in his life as when he was in the United States; that he never changed his uniform so many times a day or faced a succession of situations requiring such alertness and a certain initiative on his own part. They were situations which could not be met with merely formal behavior or the mechanical execution of a routine program.

While conversing with members of his suite Prince Henry has alluded to many things in connection with his trip. He has mentioned nothing more frequently than that no single unpleasant incident occurred in the United States. Ideas, scenes and impressions were crowded upon him too rapidly for proper appreciation at the moment perhaps, but as Prince Henry himself said:

"We have accumulated material to think about for months to come."

When one of his party inquired what had impressed him most the prince replied that the great, orderly and cheerful crowds had been his most continuous impression and would probably always be one of his most vivid impressions.

Admired Some Faces.

The prince said he saw crowds out of doors and in doors—faces of men and women, with here and there a powerful, a beautiful, or a spiritual face. He said his regret, if he dared to say he had any, was that he could not know some of those people better.

The reports that Prince Henry would occupy a different position in Germany in the future and live at Berlin instead of continuing his active sea life, are unfounded. He will hoist his flag upon his arrival at Kiel and will resume the training of his squadron. The prince will take a squadron to England next June for the naval review upon the occasion of the coronation of King Edward.

THEY ALL SAY SO

Not Only In East Liverpool, But In Every City and Town
In the Union.

If the reader took the time and trouble to ask his fellow residents of East Liverpool the simple question given below, he would obtain the one answer. If he would read the statements now being published in East Liverpool, which refer to this answer, it would surprise him to know that they number so many. As many more could be, and may be, published, but in the meantime ask the first person you meet what cures backache? The answer will be, Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a citizen who endorses our claim.

Mr. B. H. Hawkins, an employee of Sebring's pottery who resides at 234 Second street, says: "I had been taking medicine for my kidneys right along, and if I had found a cure I would have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled two years or more with distressing backache across the loins, a steady, aching pain with a quick twinge now and then while stooping or lifting that felt as if a sharp instrument had pierced my back, and the secretions of the kidneys were highly colored, feverish or slightly scalding. Work seemed to be a drag, I had no energy and I am more than thankful that I was induced to go to the W. & W. pharmacy and get Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking them there was no sign of my old complaint."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Poster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

AN OPPORTUNITY

Many people would like to honor the memory of departed loved ones with a handsome monument, but the high prices demanded by the local monument dealers prevent them. We sell and deliver fine monuments or headstones at much lower prices than similar stones can be obtained elsewhere. Most of our local monument dealers work by expensive hand methods, while our work is done by the most improved labor saving machinery. Machine work not only lessens the cost of the monument, but insures better results as the moldings, letters, etc., are cut much deeper and smoother than by hand and therefore show plainer.

The stone we use is the very best—will not rust, discolor or become streaked as most granites do.

We sell to monument dealers at wholesale and also sell direct to the individual buyer, delivering complete in the cemetery.

Our handsome booklet with designs explains all. It is free if you mention this paper.

night's fire in the destruction of the dormitory known as Denbigh hall places the loss on the building at $60,000 and the loss sustained by the students at $30,000. Not one of the young women who occupied apartments in Denbigh hall saved any of her personal effects, and yesterday all of them were wearing borrowed clothing.

The work of rebuilding will be commenced at once and it is expected the burned structure will be in readiness for occupancy by May 15 or not later than June 1. An improvement will be made in the form of an electric lighting plant. It was the absence of this equipment that resulted in the fire, student oil lamps having been utilized throughout the building. An appeal has been made to the alumni to contribute money toward the $250,000 to secure the gift of a new library building offered by John D. Rockefeller. Also money is wanted to build the electric plant.

THE IMPROVED MONEY OUTLOOK

Encouraged General Speculative Sentiment a Good Deal, on Monday.

New York, March 18.—The general speculative sentiment in Wall street was a good deal encouraged by the improved condition of the money outlook, as disclosed by the Saturday bank statement. There was no absolute improvement in the condition of the banks disclosed by that document, but there had been more or less dread last week that the surplus reserve would be entirely wiped out by the many drains upon the cash reserves. The large loan contraction effected as an offset to this drain and the absence of disturbance in the market while this was being done dissipated a good deal of the anxiety felt over the money outlook. It was this consideration that prompted the professional traders to bid up the opening prices for stocks. It developed, however, during the course of the day that the professional contingent still make up the market to a large extent, and very little following was attracted by the advancing tendency of the market. The principal operations also were inclined to revert to the industrials and specialties.

This was partly due to the fact that no relaxation was apparent in the interest rates. Call loans ruled at 4 per cent and over. Among the Gould stocks and the Southwesterns generally there was some agreement in a show of strength. A hopeful feeling in regard to the winter wheat crop, a reported increase in earnings by Wabash for the second week in March and the prevalent gossip over the acquisition of the Western Maryland railroad all conducted to this strength. There was some profit-taking in Manhattan, but it continued to show strength on large dealings in common with the other local tractions. Baltimore and Ohio and its related soft coal carriers showed strength. The liquidation in Amalgamated Copper continued very heavy, that stock leading the list in point of activity. Doubt over the maintenance of dividends caused the selling and little support was accorded it. At an extreme decline of 3 1/2 the stock touched 6 1/2, only about a point above the lowest recorded price. The last price was a fraction higher. The last prices were generally below the best, owing to a movement to take profits in the final hour, but the closing was steady.

the coast of Coró, and are fixed on General Riera, who has evaded the government troops and is now marching. It is believed, with several hundred men in the direction of Barquisimeto, in order to unite the bands who are now numerous in that district. Should he succeed, he will be in a position to take the offensive, for he will have nearly 1,500 men and will have joined Generals Batalla, Antonio Fernandez and Luciano Mendoza, who are all in that region, and to gain the district of Carabobo, which has been smoldering for a long time and which will rise to a man as soon as the inhabitants can obtain cartridges, even if not arms.

LUKBAN WISHED A THRONE.

If Victorious, He Would Have Constituted Himself Emperor.

Seattle, Wash., March 18.—Mail advises from Calbayog, under date of Jan. 26, contains the following: Major Rosales who recently surrendered at Calbayog says that if Lukban had been successful in defeating the Americans in Samar he had intended to constitute himself emperor and his minor officers princes under his authority, thereby placing the island under absolute monarchy. There was no idea of constituting a republican form of government. Asked if he considered Lukban a patriot, Rosales said he did not.

Frankly, he said that he now believed that the Americans would give the people of Samar as good a government as they needed and for that reason as much as because of the difficulty in obtaining supplies, he had surrendered himself.

Elkins Won In Blair.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., March 18.—The Blair county Republican convention was held in the court house here yesterday. Thomas Herbert, of Altoona, was elected chairman and W. L. EVANS TO BE PROMOTED.

He Is to Sever His Connection With Pension Bureau—New Position Not Decided.

Washington, March 18.—There is no longer any doubt that Pension Commissioner Evans will within the next few months, at the latest, sever his connection with the pension bureau to accept from the president a position, which will be a substantial promotion, but which has not yet been definitely selected.

It is well known that Mr. Evans has the entire confidence of the president and the latter will not consider the question of his retirement until a position entirely satisfactory to the commissioner has been provided.

No decision has yet been reached concerning a successor to Mr. Evans, nor will any action be taken until the president is thoroughly convinced that he has found a man of the same high character and sterling worth possessed by the present commissioner in so high a degree.

A BRIEF STRIKE

Fallston Pottery Workers Were Out Three Days, But Resumed Yesterday.

Every department of the Fallston pottery was idle from Friday morning until Monday on account of a dispute over the making of a fancy fruit, together with a few other small matters.

The trouble has been on for some time, and as there seemed little prospect for a settlement being made the men went out.

Secretary Duffy went to Fallston Saturday afternoon and was not long in arranging affairs so that the men could go to work. The question of whether the workmen would receive four cents, which they demanded for making the shape, or whether they will submit to the firm's price of 3 1/4 cents was left in the hands of the standing committee.

The other disputes were settled amicably. Secretary Duffy returned home Saturday night.

ATTORNEYS GOT LEFT

The attorneys failed to catch the train at Rochester and cannot reach Lisbon until this evening. There is a possibility that a jury will be empaneled this evening and will view the Lawson property in Wellsville tomorrow, in the case of C. C. Lawson and others versus the city of Wellsville. The Lawsons claim their property was injured by a change of grade on Third street and ask $3,000 damages.

Lisbon, March 18.—(Special)—No jury cases were heard in common pleas court today. The cases scheduled were of interest principally to Wellsville and East Liverpool residents, the petitions having been filed by attorneys from those cities.

The attorneys failed to catch the train at Rochester and cannot reach Lisbon until this evening. There is a possibility that a jury will be empaneled this evening and will view the Lawson property in Wellsville tomorrow, in the case of C. C. Lawson and others versus the city of Wellsville. The Lawsons claim their property was injured by a change of grade on Third street and ask $3,000 damages.

PLEASANT LITTLE PARTY

Given By Miss Mary Sophia McCann to About Twenty Friends.

Miss Mary Sophia McCann was hostess at quite a pleasant little affair last evening, at her home on Sixth St. The McCann home was prettily decorated in honor of the occasion. Games of various kinds were the features of the evening.

When the time for refreshment arrived each guest was provided with the half of a figure cut from a magazine, and thus each boy was to find his partner for the prettily arranged luncheon. The favors were unique.

The evening was greatly enjoyed by about twenty young people.

19TH YEAR. NO. 65.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 1902.

TWO CENTS.

ANOTHER EDICT IS ISSUED BY MAYOR W. C. DAVIDSON

He Declares Saloon Keepers
Have Violated Orders and
Defied the Law.

WILL STAND IT NO LONGER

His Patience Exhausted, He Proposes to Make It Warm
For Offenders.

NO ONE WILL BE SPARED

And Those Who Carelessly or Purposely Disregard the Law Here-
after Might As Well Prepare for Trouble, the City's Executive Says.

Mayor Davidson several weeks ago issued an order to the saloonkeepers of the city, asking that the law with reference to keeping open after hours and on Sunday be complied with.

At that time a great many took heed of the warning, their places of business were closed and screens removed promptly upon the hour designated for them to do so, but there were others who apparently paid no heed to the order.

Those who sought to defy the law and the orders of the mayor as well, soon discovered the folly of the course they had pursued. Many of them had taken the matter as a joke, but the mayor was in earnest and several of them were arrested and heavily fined for their persistency in violating the laws, not only of the city but of the state as well. And the matter did not end in the mayor's court, for, as a result of the arrests that were made then, several of the same saloonkeepers were indicted by the grand jury, fined, and a few of them were even sent to jail.

The mayor now issues a second edict. He says that for a time after the crusade every saloon in the city, apparently fully complied with the law, but from various reports which have reached him within the past few weeks, violations are frequent. To a News Review reporter this morning he said: "I have been very patient with these fellows, but my patience is now exhausted. I will say that there are a few saloonkeepers who, I believe, would not knowingly allow their places of business to remain open a minute after the time specified for them to close, but on the other hand there are those who persist in taking every advantage of me that they can, and I do not propose to stand it any longer. You can say for me that I do not intend that this class shall continue to run as I hear they have been doing during the past few weeks, and hereafter every offender, no matter who it is, shall pay the penalty."

DULY PUNISHED

East Liverpool Man And Two Others
Without Money Freed

Lisbon, March 18. — (Special) — Newton Inglede, James Lowe and Thomas McCann have been released from the county jail, prosecuting attorney Brookes being of opinion that they have served long enough.

Inglede is from Salem and was found guilty of assault. Lowe, from East Liverpool, furnished liquor to minors. McCann is from Leetonia and stole shirts from the company store. All three were committed to jail until their fines were paid, but are unable to pay.

ANTI-SALOON CAMPAIGN

It in Lisbon

Lisbon, March 18. — (Special) — Sunday, March 23, is to be anti-saloon day in Lisbon. Rev. P. A. Baker, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and Rev. Thomas M. Hare, superintendent of the Canton district, will address the church people in union meetings.

FOOT BADLY CRUSHED

A Foundry Workman Got It Entangled
in Some of the Machinery.

Thomas Hupp, a machinist employed at the upper shop of the Patterson Foundry & Machine company, met with a serious accident while at work this morning. In some unaccountable manner his right foot became entangled in the machinery and was severely crushed before it could be extricated.

The flesh about the ankle was badly lacerated, but no bones were broken. The injured man was removed to his home on Second street in the patrol and is reported as resting easy this afternoon.

NO OPPOSITION

TO CONGRESSMAN TAYLER FOR ANOTHER TERM.

His Gubernatorial Boom Is Assuming
portions.

Columbus, March 18. — (Special). Senator Connell, of Lisbon, returned to the state capital from his home on Monday afternoon, and brought with him information to the effect that Congressman Robert W. Tayler, of Lisbon, would have no opposition for re-nomination in his district. The Columbus Dispatch says that Congressman Tayler appears to be gaining strength in his candidacy for governor.

"When announcement was first made that Mr. Tayler would be a candidate," says the Dispatch, "the comment most frequently heard was that his candidacy was no more than a local affair, but it now develops that he is being looked upon with favor by men high in the councils of the party."

The paper also says that Mr. Connell is one of the active and influential Republicans of eastern Ohio who has already done much to promote Mr. Tayler's candidacy. The formal announcement of Congressman Tayler's intention to run for governor was made in the Neil house in this city by Senator Connell in December. Since that time the senator's name has been mentioned in connection with Mr. Tayler's candidacy quite frequently.

TO SATISFY CLAIMS

Three Shares of Gas Apparatus Company Stock Were Sold
Today.

Three shares of stock of the Gas Apparatus and Construction company were sold by H. E. Grosshans at public auction in Squire McCarron's office at noon today to satisfy a claim of $100 he held against H. H. C. Hamerton. Mr. Grosshans claims that Hamerton was indebted to him in the above amount for legal services performed which Hamerton refused to pay.

The stock which belonged to Hamerton was in Grosshans' possession and he accordingly sold it to satisfy his claim. Hamerton himself was the purchaser, paying $16.50 a share. As there is still a balance due on the original $100 claim further litigation is threatened.

NOTED SAFE BLOWER

Such, It Is Believed, Is the Man Who
Was Arrested at Moultrie.

Everett Robey, who was arrested by Chief of Police P. D. Howell, of Alliance, at Moultrie, Saturday, has been taken to Columbus. He is believed to be a notorious safe blower. He was arrested on a warrant sworn out by I. A. Pherson, postmaster at Pherson, near Darbyville, charging him with complicity in a safecracking job. It is suspected that Robey is a member of the gang.

Robey has been living in Cleveland. He has served a sentence in the Mansfield reformatory for robbery.

NIGHT SESSIONS ARE NECESSARY

House Will Hold Them to Dispose of Accumulated Business.

BILL TO PROTECT MINERS

Which Has Many Commendable Features—Sweeping Measure Applicable to School Teachers—Municipal
Code Bill Considered Dead.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 18. — (Special) — The house will hold a session tonight to dispose of a large number of local bills which have been piling up on the calendar. It is probable that it will be necessary to hold night sessions regularly later, if the present dilatory tactics are not abandoned.

Senator Connell yesterday reconsidered his determination not to introduce a single bill and consented to hand in a measure shortly after the senate convened to extend the term of the dairy and food commissioner from two to three years.

Representative Pollock, of Stark, submitted a bill to provide safeguards for those employed in the construction and operation of underground tunnels, slopes and ventilating shafts. A system of inspection, similar to that in vogue in mines, is provided for, to be under the regulation of the chief inspectors of mines of the state. The provisions of the bill are commendable, and there seems to be substantial reason why the measure should not become a law. It would work no hardship on employers, but simply would render it incumbent upon them to exercise proper caution for the protection of the lives of those in their employ. Representative Pollock has been chosen by the labor organizations of the state to introduce the bills drawn in their behalf.

Senator Warner, of Cleveland, presented two sweeping school bills on Monday afternoon. One of them provides that no certificate shall be issued to any teacher who has not had at least five years' experience or has had studied for one term in a normal school. The other bill proposes a board of regents, to control all the educational institutions of the state. There would be nine members, five of whom would be appointed by the governor and the other four by the state school commissioner and the heads of the various universities. The board is to have complete supervision of all schools, especially with regard to courses of study, grades, etc. It is also empowered to create preparatory schools.

Representative York, of Ottawa, who is a member of the committee which has charge of the municipal code bill, expressed the belief last night that the measure would never leave the hands of the committee. The committee had done nothing but listen to arguments for and against the bill, and the situation has become so complicated that it has become impossible to define any fixed policy with respect to the measure. A great number of objections have been made to the provisions of the bill, but they are widely divergent.

ANOTHER STEP TOWARD UNION

Taken By the Public Library
Board at a Meeting
Last Night.

A CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Chosen to Meet With Members of the
Carnegie Library Board—Session
Tonight at Which It Is Hoped Progress Will Be Made.

From the action taken by the public library board at its meeting last night, it now seems certain that definite steps will be taken at once for the merging of the two institutions.

Messrs. Weisend, McLane, Flowers, Reark, Brookes, Collins, Orr, Cope and Gilbert were present, and John J. Purinton attended the meeting from the Carnegie board.

It had been held by certain members of the old public library that while overtures had been made to the former board looking to consolidation, the new body since its organization, was not bound to abide by any action taken previous to their election to the position of directors.

As soon as the Carnegie people were made aware of this; steps were taken to go over the same ground once more. Mr. Purinton made an intelligent and comprehensive explanation, and he it said to the credit of a majority of those in attendance, they were favorable to the proposition.

The original plan of the Carnegie board was proposed, which provides for a special act increasing the number of members of the Carnegie board from six to nine in order that the labor people might have representation. It was shown that the division would be in favor of the working people, and the suggestion made that a just distribution would be three members from the workmen, two from the professional ranks, two from among the business men, with two to be selected from the manufacturers.

After some discussion a committee composed of J. J. Weisend, D. M. McLane and A. V. Gilbert was appointed to confer with a like number from the Carnegie board. The latter body will be represented by J. J. Purinton, G. V. Travis and George Peach. The joint committee will meet at 7 o'clock tonight, and when it has finished the work before it, there is every reason to believe a bill will be ready for presentation to the legislature, which will contain all the necessary requirements. That it will meet with prompt consideration at the hands of the law-makers there is no doubt, as it will be a matter that concerns East Liverpool alone.

THINK HIM INSANE

Police Astonished By the Quercapers Cut By Ben
Lloyd.

Ben Lloyd, who has figured conspicuously in police court during the past year and who is at present in jail charged with intoxication and disorderly conduct, will probably be taken to the county infirmary. He is without friends and has no money with which to pay his fine.

The police are of the opinion that the man is insane, probably caused by his over-indulgence in drink. During yesterday and last night he performed all kinds of fancy capers in his cell and insisted that the other prisoners should serve him with different brands of liquor, claiming that they were all bartenders and thoroughly understood their business. This morning he extended an invitation to the mayor to eat taffy with him, claiming to have received a consignment of a superior quality during the night.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PROGRAM A MOST ENJOYABLE ONE

RESTRAINING ORDER

ISSUED AGAINST COUNTY AUDIT-
OR J. F. ADAMS.

Temporary Injunction Secured By Buckeye Engine Company in
a Tax Dispute.

Lisbon, March 18. — (Special) — A temporary restraining order has been granted the Buckeye Engine company, of Salem, against Auditor J. F. Adams.

The petition filed by the company says the auditor it about to place on the tax duplicate a large sum of money as taxable property, in addition to other property on which the company now pays taxes. An order was asked restraining him from doing so for the year ending in April, 1902, and for each of the five preceding years. The company further asked that the injunction be made perpetual after the hearing of the case.

The temporary injunction granted simply causes a lull in the proceedings until common pleas court passes upon the case.

DRIVEN FROM HOME

LISBON CHILDREN BAREFOOT IN
THE STREET.

A Drunken Father Had Abused
Them And His Wife.

Lisbon, March 18. — (Special) — Francis Pryor, colored, was arrested last night for abusing his wife and stepchildren. The children found the officers near the opera house last night and reported that their father had driven them from home. They were barefooted and only half clothed.

Pryor has served time in the work-house and jail.

BLAZE AT A POTTERY

A Very Small Fire at McNicol's Called
ment.

What might have proven a serious fire occurred at the D. E. McNicol pottery about 11:30 o'clock last night. An overheated flue set the woodwork in the ceiling of the old yellow ware dipping house on fire, burning a small hole in the floor of the second story.

An alarm was sent to the central fire station and the firemen by quick action extinguished the flames by using four Babcocks.

At 11 o'clock Night Watchman Mike Callahan turned out the gas in the stove in this room and when he returned later the floor was smoldering. The loss is slight and no inconvenience was caused the employees of the pottery.

THE EVENING ENTERTAINMENT

Was Also a Pronounced Success—Visitors Got Home Late, Tired But
Happy—The Day's Exercises Described in Detail.

The members of the Division No. 1 A. O. H. and their friends from this city, who made the trip to Steubenville yesterday, had a very pleasant trip, and the program was greatly enjoyed.

Late last evening a report was circulated in this city to the effect that James Dillon, a well known kiln-hand had been shot and fatally wounded by a colored policeman during the afternoon.

The News Review at once communicated with the authorities at Steubenville, with the result that the story was found to be without the slightest foundation.

The Salineville delegation, numbering about 200, returned with the Liverpool people about midnight and their cars were taken out the main line later.

The day was most agreeably spent and proved one of the happiest St. Patrick's day celebrations that the East Liverpool A. O. H. ever participated in.

The members of the Steubenville division of Hibernians, headed by Bueche's band, met the visitors at the depot, where the parade, which was a most creditable one, was formed as follows:

Chief Marshal P. McGarey.
Deputy Marshal D. W. Connor.
Carriage of Speakers and State Officers,
Haynes' Band, of East Liverpool.
Division No. 1, A. O. H., of East Liverpool; 60 men.
Division No. 2, A. O. H., of Salineville;
80 men.
Division No. 2, A. O. H., of Toronto;
30 men.
Bueche's Band.
Division No. 1, A. O. H., of Steubenville; 50 men.

From the station the parade moved up Market street and south on Fifth to Holy Name Church, the bands playing "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning." All along the line of march the sidewalks were filled with people "a wearing of the green" and many of the buildings, show windows, etc., were decorated in the colors of the Emerald Isle. At Holy Name Church high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Hartley who also delivered a most eloquent and inspiring sermon to the members of the order and their friends, who filled every available seat in the church. The choir also rendered several special musical numbers after mass. It was almost noon when the services at the church were concluded. The parade again formed and moved down Slack to Fourth, up Fourth to South, to Third, to Logan, and then to the Denary on Fourth street, where it halted for five minutes, where Rev. Father Dacey made a brief address from the steps of the Denary. The parade then moved to Fourth and Market, where it disbanded.

In the afternoon sixty candidates from East Liverpool, Salineville and Toronto were initiated into the order at A. O. H. Hall.

The exercises of the day concluded with an entertainment at the Olympia last night, for which the following program had been arranged:

EAST END

THE EAST END BOOM

Outlook Never Brighter for a Busy Season in the Building Line.

Never in the history of the Fifth ward was the outlook for a building boom more bright than at present. With the last three weeks, contractors in that section of the city have been besieged with inquiries concerning prices of materials, estimates and questions as to how soon work on new residences will commence. Lumber is being received by the carload, and it is being removed to sites where new residences are to be built almost as soon as it is received.

Many plans for new residences are being made, and it will not be long now until things will be looking different in this part of the city, at least as far as building is concerned.

TO BE SOLD IN LOTS

Valuable Tract Known as Surles' Brick Yard to Be Sold Off.

The property for many years known as the Surles' brick yard is soon to be occupied by fine residences. At least this was the statement of one of the owners of this property last evening. The property, which is bounded by Cadmus, Sophia and Minerva streets, is owned by the Wucherer estate, and arrangements are now being made to plat the ground and lay it out in lots.

The property includes three and one-half acres and only recently the heirs, it is said, were offered $20,000 for the land, but this offer was refused. Not long ago a railroad company was after this land, but no sale was made.

HANDBALL A GREAT DEVELOPING GAME.

Now a Regular Part of Every Pugilist's Training Operations. Champion Mike Egan.

Handball has become one of the most popular of winter indoor sports, and thousands of athletes throughout the United States are daily and nightly engaged in playing the great game. During the last few months many new courts have been placed in commission in various towns and cities, and at the present time no gymnasium is considered well appointed unless provision has been made for the sport.

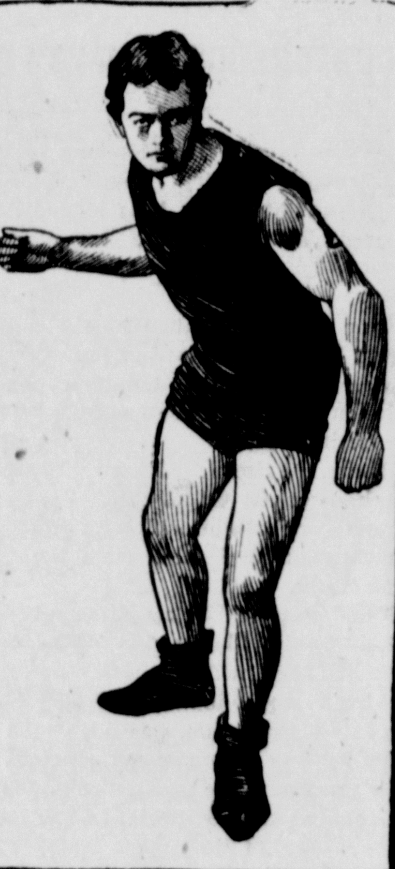

Athletes of all sorts have adopted the game as a means of preparation for contests, and the benefits derived are such as to render it practically invaluable. Pugilists have long been ardent patrons, and for an all around developer the game has yet to be surpassed.

James J. Corbett was one of the first to realize the value of handball as a training exercise and always put in half an hour each day in the court while preparing for a fight. Champion Jim Jeffries got the fever at Carson City when he was assisting Corbett to train for his fight with Fitzsimmons, and he used a handball court whenever possible.

Those who play handball claim that no other pastime combines so great a number of qualities that tend to develop agility, strength and speed and that there is probably no other game which requires so much quickness of thought and rapidity of action. The speed of the bounding ball keeps the players on the jump all the time.

Michael Egan of Jersey City is the champion handball player of the world. He has a court in his home city and may be seen at almost any time, meeting would be conquerors. Egan's ability in this particular line is nothing short of marvelous. He has been a player and a student of the sport for many years and knows practically every trick in the business. He has held the world's championship for several years, and there seems to be no imminent danger of his losing it. Egan has often been called on to defend his title, but his victories have occurred with monotonous regularity.

A good player must be able to use either hand with equal facility. The quickness of the ball's rebound renders this absolutely necessary, for the performer seldom has sufficient time in which to turn around. Egan is particularly adept at this feature, and his opponents gain no advantage whatever by returning the hard leather covered ball to his left side. All hands look alike to the champion. The accompanying illustration shows Egan in the act of running in after a "short" ball. It is a difficult matter to return accurately a short ball while on the run. A slight overestimate of distance will result in a complete miss, or else the ball will receive a glancing blow, which oftentimes is just as bad.

Serving is a very important part of the game. To be able to serve well is to have decidedly improved chances for finishing first. Every move of the opponent should be watched with the sharpest of eyes, for by following this plan an opportunity is often presented to catch a man off his guard.

A point to which every ambitious player should pay a great deal of attention is the manner of returning the ball. As it rises in its rebound or as it bounds directly from the board it should be met in the face by the palm of the hand and returned sharply, at the same time giving due consideration to accuracy.

Without accuracy no person will be able to compete with strong players. Egan's accuracy is wonderful to behold. He can at any time return the ball so that it will strike inside a circle six inches in circumference. And it is this accomplishment that has had the most to do with making him champion.

Track athletes are also devotees of this many sided recreation. In the colleges and athletic clubs candidates for running and jumping honors are frequently told by their trainers to make use of the handball courts. Baseball cracks state that they find themselves materially aided by work on the asphalt floored inclosures.

Stallings Is a Winner.

Buffalo's new manager, George Stallings, has a national reputation for developing good teams, having landed nine championships in fifteen years and never finishing lower than fourth place.

Doves and Coronations.

At the ancient ceremonies of coronation of the French kings, after the anointing had been performed, some white doves were let loose in the church. This was supposed to symbolize the power of the Holy Ghost in directing the king's actions. A similar idea seems to have inspired all early kings, for among the English regalia is the rod of equity or the scepter with the dove. This is simply a golden rod with a mound at the top, which supports a cross. On this cross is a dove, fashioned of white enamel, with expanded wings. Some fine diamonds ornament the rod in various places.

SHIP BILL PASSED.

Subsidy Measure Went Through
In the Senate by Vote
of 42 to 31.

AMENDED BY ITS FRIENDS.

Hanna Offered and Senate Adopted
Three Amendments, Which Would
Prevent Morgan Getting Subsidies
For Newly Acquired Leyland Line.

Washington, March 18.—After a prolonged debate, the senate yesterday passed the ship subsidy bill, the final vote upon the measure being 42 to 31. Senators Allison and Dilliver, of Iowa; Spooner and Quarles, of Wisconsin; and Proctor and Dillingham, of Vermont, Republicans, voted against final passage of the bill, and Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, voted for it.

Some Amendments Were Adopted.

Some amendments to the bill were adopted, but they were all agreeable to those in charge of the measure, the friends of the bill voting down all other amendments. With exception of amendments offered by Mr. Allison, and accepted by Mr. Frye, limiting the time of the operation of contracts made under the provisions of the bill to July 1, 1920, and providing that the amount of the expenditure under the mail subsidy paragraph should not at any time exceed $8,000,000 annually, none of the amendments agreed to materially affected the bill as it was reported from the caucus committee.

The voting upon the amendments began at 3 o'clock, and such a flood of them was offered that a final vote upon the bill, as amended, was not reached until just before 6 o'clock. Amendments offered by Mr. Vest, of Missouri, providing for "free ships" and for the application of the provisions of the anti-trust law to the shipping industry were rejected, as was the amendment proposed by Mr. Patterson, of Colorado, providing that no Chinese person should be a member of the crew of a subsidized vessel. Mr. Pettus, of Alabama, offered an amendment providing that the total expenditure under the bill should not exceed $9,000,000 in any one year. It was adopted in committee of the whole, but later, in the senate, was rejected by a decisive vote.

Agreed to Spooner Amendment.

The senate agreed to an amendment offered by Mr. Spooner providing that congress should have power to amend or repeal the act, without impairing any contract made under its authority.

Mr. Hanna, of Ohio, offered, and the senate adopted, three amendments applying directly to the acquisition by Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan and his associates of the Leyland line of British ships. They provide that no foreign built ship shall participate in the proposed subsidy; that nothing in the act shall be construed to prevent American citizens or corporations from holding or operating foreign ships in the ocean carrying trade, and that no foreign built ship of any line thus acquired by American citizens shall be admitted hereafter to American registry.

GIVE THE BAD BOY SOMETHING TO DO

By EUGENE WHITNEY, Secretary of the People's University Extension Society of New York

THE average bad boy is simply a boy bubbling over with vitality and the natural spirits of a healthy animal. He expends his energies in fighting and other objectionable practices because he has no other interesting way of working off his surplus steam. GIVE HIM SOMETHING TO DO, SOMETHING TO OCCUPY THE ACTIVE BRAIN AND HANDS, AND YOU OPEN A NEW WORLD TO HIM—A WORLD OF UNDREAMED OF POSSIBILITIES, OF USEFULNESS FOR HIMSELF AND HUMANITY. The inherent nobility in the wildest boy is only awaiting the magic touch of opportunity to spring into active life.

The People's University Extension Society of New York is furnishing a large number of free classes in elementary manual work of all kinds throughout the city. The remarkable transforming power of manual work over boys who would usually be called hopelessly bad was recently shown in one of our free classes in elementary carpentry. On the opening night of the class one boy was so unmanageable that the superintendent put him out of the room. He returned the next evening and within a very few weeks had been so transformed by the inspiration of manual work that he became the best workman of the entire class.

Very encouraging incidents constantly come to our notice showing the powerful impulse for good which is brought into the lives of these waifs of the street by the systematic training of hand and brain under the direction of qualified and sympathetic teachers. THE APTITUDE FOR LEARNING SHOWN BY BOYS WHO HAVE HAD NO OPPORTUNITIES FOR MAKING ANYTHING OF THEMSELVES IS OFTEN ASTONISHING. It is not unusual to find a boy doing such good work in chair caning after half a dozen lessons that he supports himself in that employment.

cases of conflict of authority between the civil and military authorities in the Philippines find substantial confirmation in an order recently issued by General Chaffee, the division commander at Manila, to the commanding officer of the fifth separate brigade operating in Iloilo. The order was in part:

"There appears to be some misunderstanding as to the extent and under what circumstances the military may act of its own motion in provinces where civil government has been put in operation by the Philippine commission. The division commander desires to avoid friction with the civil authorities, and you are informed that the civil government entertains a strong suspicion that the army in many instances willfully and for ulterior motives unnecessarily interferes with the civil officials in their prescribed duties, making arrests when they should not do so, usually on suspicion rather than for just cause; if not for cause, then unwarranted arrests because of the fact that civil authority, not military, should act.

"You are advised also that the vice civil governor has been informed by the constabulary and others that the presence of the army is no longer necessary or advisable at a very large majority of the stations now occupied by it in what are known as pacified provinces.

"Arrests and holding of prisoners by the military in cases not mentioned are questionable and are to be avoided when practicable to do so. The military will be upheld in attacking all armed bodies which officers believe are intended to disturb the orderly and peaceful authority of the United States in these islands. It will be well, however, to determine in advance whether it is United States authority aimed at or whether a mere local disorderly band is out for robbing, the suppression of which the civil authorities may prefer to deal with single handed, unaided by the army of the United States. You are advised also that many complaints are received by the civil governor to the effect that soldiers are disorderly in the communities where stationed; that they are harsh and ill treat the inhabitants. No excuse can be accepted for complaints of this sort, if true, from any station of our troops in the pacified provinces. It is the duty of every officer to maintain good discipline of his troops and to repress at once every disorderly act committed by soldiers on the inhabitants. Military necessity is one thing—lawlessness is another, and quite a different matter."

ELECTIONS IN SOME STATES.

House Committee Voted to Report
Crumpacker Resolution—Democrats Threaten Trouble.

Washington, March 18.—The house committee on rules, by a divided vote on party lines, yesterday decided to report the resolution of Representative Crumpacker, of Indiana, for a special committee of 13 members to investigate and report on the alleged disfranchisement of voters in some of the states.

The two Democratic members of the committee, Representatives Richardson, of Tennessee, and Underwood, of Alabama, protested against reporting the resolution, and when it was ordered to be reported by the affirmative votes of the Republican members of the committee, Speaker Henderson and Representatives Dalzell, the Democratic members consulted their colleagues on the floor of the house and began considering the advisability of expressing their dissent by resorting to the most extreme devices of parliamentary procedure, even to the extent of stopping the regular procedure of the house. That this extreme step shall be taken has not yet been decided on, as Messrs. Richardson and Underwood, after conferring with other Democratic members, said that action of the character contemplated should not be taken unless there is the most complete concurrence by the entire minority and a determination in advance to make a most determined contest. To this end it is the intention to submit the matter to a Democratic caucus, probably on Wednesday night. A caucus already has been called for that night to consider the Boer war. Under the caucus rules it will require unanimous consent to consider anything outside the Boer subject. But in view of the general sentiment among Democratic members, it is expected that unanimous consent will be given to consider the disfranchisement question. Otherwise another caucus will be called.

CHINESE EXCLUSION BILL.

Penrose Submitted Report on Bill He Reported Recently.

Washington, March 18.—Senator Penrose, chairman of the committee on immigration, yesterday submitted a report on the Chinese exclusion bill which he reported a few days ago. He said that the sentiment of the American people is crystallized against the admission of Chinese laborers to compete with the workmen of the United States. The Chinese government has agreed heretofore in treaties that Chinese laborers shall be prohibited from entering the United States. After reciting the acts relating to Chinese exclusion, the report says:

"Under the administration of existing laws many of the evil results of the previous unrestricted immigration of Chinese have been nullified and under their protection American labor has regained much that was lost by former competition of Chinese cheap labor."

"It is obvious, however, that the former evils are not forgotten by the workmen of this country and that the demand for the continuance of our established policy is well nigh universal and voiced with an earnestness and insistence that merits and compels our favorable action."

The report then reviews the difficulty of enforcing the exclusion laws, and says that this makes it necessary that new legislation shall be comprehensive in its scope and effect, and for that reason the committee recommend the passage of the bill.

MANLEY NOT LIKELY TO ACCEPT

Offered Position of First Assistant Postmaster General.

Washington, March 18.—Joseph H. Manley, of Augusta, Me., the Maine member of the Republican national committee, is being pressed by the administration to accept the office of first assistant postmaster general, but it is not yet known whether Mr. Manley will accept the office. The office has not been formally tendered, but Mr. Manley has been approached on the subject, and Postmaster General Payne, with whom the Maine committeeman has been closely associated in a number of national campaigns, is anxious to have Mr. Manley accept.

Though not finally determined, it is quite likely that Mr. Manley will not take the office, his private interests being in the way. Both Mr. Manley and the postmaster general yesterday declined to discuss the matter. Mr. Manley is here in the interest of some Augusta publications excluded under the new classification regulations of the department.

A Malay soldier one day dropped his pill, whereupon Jack picked it up and dropped it into the man's open mouth with a puff that blew it safely down.

The proposition for merging the old public library and the Carnegie library has reached a point where speedy action is imperative. Legislation will be required to increase the membership of the Carnegie library board, as is proposed, and the legislature is to remain in session but a short time. Moreover, the plans for the opening of the Carnegie library are being delayed and the work and influence of that institution will be hampered unless its future can be mapped out now. We have spoken plainly on the subject heretofore, and we now repeat that East Liverpool cannot afford to support two libraries, and there is no reason or necessity why it should attempt to do so. Most of the citizens favor the consolidation of the libraries, seeing in that method the best means of making them most useful. The Carnegie library is to be supported by the city and for the city, and its advantages will be open to the laboring man as well as to the capitalist. It is but right that the laboring men have their representatives upon its board, but it would not be right to have a board composed wholly of laboring men, any more than it would be right to have a board composed, for instance, wholly of manufacturers or of lawyers or physicians. Trades Council—at least a majority of it—seems satisfied that the proposition to give that body three representatives on the board, reserving six places for manufacturers, business and professional men, is eminently fair and just. The business which the library board member follows really matters little, provided he be a man of advanced ideas and ready at all times to work for the best interests of the library and of the city. It is a matter that there should be no dispute over. The old library has been useful, and its usefulness has not been forgotten. But a greater public library is about to be opened for the people; great enough to accommodate everybody. Its interests will be first with the public hereafter, as they should be. The old library can be made most useful only by merging it with the new one.

Signs multiply that any man who wants to work in East Liverpool the coming summer can find all the work he wants to do if he is a steady man and understands his business. Moreover, he will be reasonably sure of his pay, and at good wages. This city did something in the improvement line in 1901, but if the record is not broken in 1902 it will certainly be for some reason not now apparent.

"It is not surprising," remarks an exchange, "that there should be strikes this spring. They are natural in good times. Wage-earners have little fear then of losing their chances to make a living." True, but strikes are unfortunate at any time. A few weeks of idleness may eat up a year's savings, and even if the striker gains the advance he seeks, it is going to take a long time to put him where he stood before. Strikes are seldom profitable, as both labor and capital are learning.

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good. The Boer war has resulted in creating an extensive demand for American horses and mules and probably in increasing the price of both. Great Britain has bought in the United States and shipped to South Africa, since the beginning of the war there, 82,427 horses and 95,460 mules. The aggregate paid for the animals was $24,887,104 an average of $159 each.

The president of the Western Union Telegraph company, who began his career as a messenger boy, believes the chances for a young man to rise in the world are just as good as ever. When he says it all depends upon the man, he says all that is necessary on the subject. Golden opportunities were never greater for those who have the wit and the brains to seize them.

It is not a flattering commentary on fashionable American women to learn that the 300,000 dressmakers in this country find it necessary to organize an association to protect themselves from "dead beats" who order dresses and do not pay for them.

The British, it is reported, are buying bronchos in Montana for use in South Africa. It is hard to credit the statement. The British surely have troubles enough in Africa without importing them.

It is hard enough in most states to choose two United States senators. Mr. Penrose's plan to choose anywhere from six to 16 won't do.

The Cuban sugar question is not worrying the Ohio farmer who has a good maple sugar orchard on his premises.

The evening of St. Patrick's Day gave spring about as severe a backset as it has yet received.

AT THE THEATER

The second largest house in the history of the local theater greeted Arthur C. Aiston's "At the Old Cross Roads," which was presented here last night under the auspices of the ushers. The play is one of the very best that has ever been witnessed by the East Liverpool people, the cast being exceptionally strong and well balanced. The immense audience was delighted with the rendition, and all were unanimous in agreeing that it was "the sweetest story ever told."

Frank Keenan, who comes to the Grand Friday evening, is a player of experience and ability. "His performance of the title role in 'Hon. John Grigsby' is well considered in all matters, and commendable." So wrote Hillary Bell, the critic of the New York Press, on the occasion of Mr. Keenan's first stellar engagement in New York at the Manhattan theater, and this opinion was echoed by critics and public.

POTTERY NEWS

Great are the improvements that are to be made at the Benty pottery, although it be a small shop, containing no jiggers, lathes and but one kiln. Since the little plant was built nothing but a line of art ware has been made, which proved to be a good seller. Now a change is to be made, and one that will doubtless land the owners way up in the king row. A new gas engine is to be secured at once, also a new jigger and lathe. A line of white ware, consisting of plates, saucers, fruits and cups will be made. The little kiln will hold 200 saggars, it is said, and there will be no lost room in the kiln. The improvements will be completed within a month.

Nothing has been done recently by the Pennsylvania railroad company relative to the purchase of the property of the East Liverpool Sagger company, located in Pink alley. Several workmen are now engaged in taking up foundations upon which stood electrical machinery when the site was used for a light plant, but they are not being removed from the building. All the heaters placed in the building by the Sagger company have been demolished, which shows that a move will likely be made by the company.

After the program to govern the business of the next national meeting of the Brotherhood, has been completed, a copy of it will be sent to every local under the jurisdiction of the organization. If any change is suggested, notification may be sent to the head officials, who will in turn notify the local presenting the resolution. In this manner the business will be greatly facilitated, and the delegates will be advised beforehand about what matters will be up and when that order will be reached.

DAMAGE SUIT

CONSIDERED BY COUNCIL IN SECRET SESSION.

Lawson Bros.' Claim Discussed—Various Matters Acted on In Open Session.

The city council held a secret session last evening in the mayor's sanctum for the purpose of taking action on the $3,000 damage suit filed against the city by Lawson Bros., but it is learned beyond doubt that the solons made no agreement whatever in regard to the matter.

Lawson Bros., having proven themselves adverse to making a mutual settlement, it is said that council will leave the case for settlement by the court at Lisbon. The suit arises out of a ill made by the city on Third street.

After this session an open session was held. The city engineer was ordered to have the grade line on Clark avenue changed from 10th to 22d street. A petition signed by the property owners along Eve alley was read and in consequence the alley will be paved. The water course on Bunting's run will be changed so that it will run along 22d street.

A letter from the Cleveland work house authorities was read. It stated that prisoners are received there for 35 cents per day. Action was deferred. A committee was appointed to buy a street sweeper.

A city team will be bought or hired to haul the refuse from the streets. Sidewalks on the county road to the corporation line will be laid. Storm gates will be placed at the mouth of each storm sewer.

The gas companies will be notified to fill holes left by them in the streets. Supt. Healy will be ordered to have the feed wires within the corporation insulated or remove them.

FINALLY SETTLED

Charles Mick Will Soon Receive $4,000 For His Serious Injuries.

Charles Mick, the lad permanently injured last fall by the uninsulated feed wire in the watering trough on the Lisbon road, will receive immediately the $4,000 from the telephone company and the United Power company, that being the amount agreed upon as a settlement for the injuries.

The settlement was made several weeks ago. The case was revived last week when Mick's attorneys called upon the defense for the money. They refused to give a check for it and the case was set for another hearing tomorrow, but another move has been made and the case settled, probably for its last time.

Cox Out on Bail.

HE SIGNED HIS NAME.

Story of Frank Hatton When He Became Postmaster General.

"Frank Hatton was a great stickler for details," said a former representative of congress who had been in Washington when Mr. Hatton was postmaster general the other day, "and when he entered the cabinet in the latter part of Arthur's administration he carried this habit with him. He let it be known among the heads of bureaus and divisions that he proposed to familiarize himself with the business of the department until he had grasped all the details of the work over which he presided.

"The second day at his desk the venerable colored messenger who attended him brought the usual large bundle of letters to be signed. It was a pile of typewritten epistles, inches thick. The messenger placed them before Mr. Hatton and, with a blotting pad in hand, stood waiting for the signature, as he had done for Mr. Hatton's predecessors since Hayes' time. The first letter was a long one on a topic with which the new postmaster general was not familiar and so formal, legal and involved that one reading did not make its meaning clear. Mr. Hatton hesitated, wrinkled his forehead and mused to himself:

"What's this all about anyway? It's all news to me. I don't know whether I approve of the things it says or not. I can't make head or tail out of it. I don't know whether it's a good thing or not."

"The old messenger, standing with blotting pad raised, leaned over and placed his forefinger on the space at the end of the last page and answered: "Well, neither do I, but you sign your name there."

"Mr. Hatton signed."—New York Times.

Storing Oxygen in the Blood.

Professional divers, who remain under water from two to five minutes at a time, are accustomed before submerging themselves to take deep inspirations for ten minutes. The object is said to be to store up oxygen, not in the lung cells, but in the blood corpuscles. This renders a temporary suspension of the breathing possible by supplying the corpuscles with an extra quantity of oxygen, to be exchanged chemically with the carbonic acid, produced by vital processes, in the blood.

The English Language.

I like to be beholden to the great metropolitan English speech, the sea which receives tributaries from every region under heaven. I should as soon think of swimming across the Charles river when I wish to go to Boston as of reading all my books in originals when I have them rendered for me in my English tongue.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

The Unlucky Thirteen.

"I hate to have to pack up again," protested the wife. "This will be the thirteenth time we have moved since we came to town, and that's bad luck." "But we're owing $13 rent on this house, Marg," he said, "and it'll be a heap worse luck to stay here and have to pay it."—Chicago Tribune.

Trade Craft.

"Do you suppose I want my customers to watch the scales?" asked the surprised butcher. "Give me the plainest style you have."—Chicago News.

Pearls.

A CHURCH LIGHTHOUSE.

Charleston, S. C., Has the Only One In the World.

The only church in the world so far as is known that is also a lighthouse is St. Philip's church, Charleston, S. C.

St. Philip's, which is one of the oldest churches in America, is known as the "Westminster abbey of South Carolina," because within and about its walls so many distinguished men lie buried, including John C. Calhoun. The history of the old church is closely interwoven with that of South Carolina, and many of the most celebrated events in the history of the province are connected with it.

It is one of the sights of Charleston, and strangers are always taken to see it and shown its graves and monuments.

The most remarkable feature of the old church, however, is the fact that its lofty steeple serves the purpose of a lighthouse and is used to guide the seafarer and mariner safely into the port of Charleston. The use of the steeple as a lighthouse dates back to 1894, when the United States lighthouse department succeeded by dint of repeated efforts in inducing the vestry of the old church to allow a lantern to be placed in the upper story of the steeple to be used as a range light for vessels entering the harbor through the jetties at its mouth.

The light used is very powerful and is placed at an altitude of about 125 feet above the ground, so that it is easily visible thirty miles at sea. Ships making for Charleston harbor at night always keep a sharp lookout for St. Philip's light and as soon as they sight it get it into line with the beacon on Fort Sumter and then make a straight-away run for the mouth of the jetties and up through them into the harbor of Charleston.

St. Philip's church steeple is considered one of the handsomest architectural features in the world and always attracts the eye of strangers entering Charleston from the sea by its commanding height and artistic proportions.—St. Louis Republic.

NATURAL HISTORY.

There are forty-eight different kinds of house fly known and classified.

The pig is the only domestic animal in which no case of cancer has been noted.

The Spanish mackerel is one of the fastest of food fishes and cuts the water like a yacht.

Fish swallow their food whole because they are obliged to keep continually opening and closing the mouth for the purpose of respiration.

Siamese cats, both in appearance and character, closely resemble pug dogs. Even their tails have the curious curl so familiar in these stolid dogs.

Animals are found to be subject to hypnotic influence. Lobsters, it is said, can be hypnotized by standing them on their heads five or ten minutes.

There is no wild breed of fowl to which the Brahma or Cochon can be traced. The gamecock seems to be descended from the Cingalese jungle fowl.

The flesh fly produces about 20,000 young in a season. The larvae are hatched almost instantly from the egg and at once begin their work of destruction.

LUNGS THAT ARE LAZY.

Their Owners Digest Poorly and Catch Cold Easily.

Fresh air is a free gift, but it is like most of the gifts of heaven in that we must do our share of work to benefit by it. No one would expect to have a good fire just because a pair of bellows hung on a nail by the chimney, but this is exactly what many people expect of their lungs, which are really only the bellows given us by which to keep the fire of life burning bright and clear within us.

It is not too much to assert that lungs properly used in a comparatively close room will do more good than lazy lungs in an open field. This trick of lazy lungs is a habit, like any other, and may be overcome by persistent effort. Many persons, for example, are afflicted with a nervous habit of holding the breath unconsciously. These are the people who, in spite of plenty of time spent out of doors, yet catch cold easily.

ly, digest poorly and are always more or less "under the weather" physically.

Many other persons—and they constitute the great majority of mankind—breathe only with the upper part of the lungs and although they may breathe regularly do not draw in sufficient air at a breath to fill all the lung cells.

When once the pernicious habit of poor, shallow breathing has been broken up, the health undergoes such marked improvement, there is such brightening of the spirits and improvement of the looks, that the luxury of deep breathing is not likely to be readily foregone.

A good way to start the new habit is to take deliberately a few minutes at stated intervals and devote them to proper breathing. If this is done systematically, the reformer will find himself unconsciously breathing more and more, until very soon he is obeying nature and really breathing to live.

Besides the gain to the general health which comes from the habit of deep breathing there is created a reserve strength and preparedness which is often of great service in warding off acute pulmonary diseases.—Youth's Companion.

Queer Freaks of Flowers.

"Why is it," complained the man with a grouse to a restaurant keeper yesterday, "that you fellows hardly ever have any flowers in your old joints?"

The hash founder looked up. "Flowers won't live in restaurants," he said. "The smoke and odor of the cooking seems to smother them, and they never thrive. I've tried it dozens of times, and always with the same result. Put flowers in a saloon, though, and they grow and bloom in splendid shape. The tobacco smoke, I suppose, serves as a fumigator, and the fumes of the liquor apparently stimulate them. If you want to make a success of flowers, put them in a grogshop. To stunt or kill them, a restaurant is the best ever."—Duluth News-Tribune.

Performed a Filial Duty.

Joe was such a pathetic little man. He came from a quarter of the city where crime and misery had formed a background for the five weary years of his unnatural little life. He was late to kindergarten one morning and was asked to sit by the door until the morning exercises were over. Before being restored to grace the teacher asked him why he was so late. "Well," replied Joe, "the patrol came after my mother, and I waited to see her off."—Chicago Tribune.

PEACOCK MAY TALK LATER.

Refused to Discuss Kidnaping Matter.
Pittsburgher in New York With His Family.

New York, March 18.—A. R. Peacock, former vice president and general manager of the Carnegie Steel company, who, according to Pittsburgh reports, recently brought his family to this city to escape kidnapers who threatened to abduct and murder his three children unless he paid them $2,500, was seen at the Holland house yesterday. He, his wife and three children, Grant, 14 years old; A. R., Jr., aged 10, and Irene, aged 2, are stopping at the hotel.

Mr. Peacock was with H. C. Frick, of Pittsburgh. Both declared that at this time, they were disinclined to talk of the kidnaping matter.

"I have nothing to say about it; I simply will not talk," said Mr. Peacock. He added that he might make a statement later. He and Mr. Frick then boarded a Broadway street car for a trip down town.

The Pittsburgh detectives think that within a few days they will arrest the man who, about the middle of January, was the author of two threatening letters to A. R. Peacock. The letters demanded money, the first one asking $1,000, on penalty of kidnapping Mr. Peacock's children, and the second $1,500, on penalty of having the children murdered unless the money was quickly forthcoming. The detectives think they have evidence that will lead to the arrest of a colored man now in Allegheny.

The writer of the letter demanded that the ransoms be placed in a lonely spot near the Peacock home. A dummy package was left, watched by a detective, in response to the first letter, but it was not taken. The second letter demanded that no detective be sent with the second package of money.

REPUBLICANS CRITICISED

For Failure to Allow Congress to Express Sympathy With Boers.

Washington, March 18.—The house yesterday began consideration of the river and harbor bill. Mr. Burton, of Ohio, made an extended speech in explanation of the measure, in the course of which he presented many interesting facts relative to it. Several other members spoke briefly on the measure among them being Mr. Vellamy, of North Carolina, who protested against the treatment his state had received. Mr. Foster, of Illinois, and Mr. Cochran, of Missouri, discussed the Boer war, criticizing the majority seriously for failure to allow congress to express the sympathy of the American people with the struggling republics. At the conclusion of the proceedings yesterday Mr. Wachter, of Maryland, denied a newspaper story to the effect that Speaker Henderson had attempted to influence his course on the question of Cuban reciprocity.

MINING SCALE NOT DECIDED.

Altoona Coal Wage Conference Postponed—Robinson Obstructing Settlement.

Altoona, Pa., March 18.—Unable to come to any agreement after a deadlock on the scale for four days, the miners and operators agreed to let matters rest temporarily, and on March 25 they will try it again. The adjournment was caused by the inability of National President John Mitchell to be present and coach the miners and plead with the operators. He is due at Shamokin this week.

Mitchell stopped off here several hours yesterday en route to Shamokin and conferred with the district leaders. Afterwards he made a plea to the operators for settlement and spoke to the miners, who gave him a rousing welcome. He counselled them to accept anything that was fair. The miners then formulated their ultimatum, which the operators rejected. It seems that L. W. Robinson, of the Rochester and Pittsburgh Coal company, is the stumbling block in the way of an amicable settlement. He

By ANDREW D. WHITE, American Ambassador to Germany

SUNDRY European writers have been especially eloquent in denouncing the general hatred of Germany and the Germans which they insist obtains in the United States. MUCH HAS BEEN SAID OF "DEUTSCHEN HETZE" (GERMAN BAITING), and this has been placed in such a lurid light that one would almost believe that on the appearance of one of our German-American fellow citizens upon the streets of an American city the citizens of American birth were ready to cry havoc and let loose on him the dogs of war.

I can most truthfully say that I have failed to find the slightest trace of such "Deutschen Hetze." I have not discovered anything like hatred or a persecuting spirit toward the German-Americans on the American continent. Even if there were no other reasons, the Americans are too busy and too good natured for an amusement of that kind.

It has been insisted by more or less well meaning people in the United States that a dark cloud between the two countries really exists and that during our Spanish war the German government was somewhat hostile to the United States or did something which it ought not to have done and left undone something which it ought to have done.

THE CONDUCT OF THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT TOWARD US DURING THE SPANISH WAR WAS EXCELLENT. THE GERMAN GOVERNMENT OBSERVED A STRICT NEUTRALITY AND SHOWED NO UNFRIENDLY SPIRIT. FROM FIRST TO LAST IT NEVER MADE ANY SUGGESTIONS OR PROPOSALS THAT EMBARRASSED US IN THE SLIGHTEST DEGREE.

Some self constituted guardians of the welfare of the United States have insisted that it was the honored and revered sovereign of the German empire who spread this cloud over the relations of the two nations by promoting or, if not promoting, by joining in a league to intervene to stop the war. Of late, however, all this has been cleared away, and it has been shown beyond a doubt that the revered and beloved sovereign of Germany refused to take part in anything which could be construed as interference in the contest, and refused in such a manner as to show that he respected the motives and appreciated the feelings of the American government.

has secured some concessions from his miners that he claims he is entitled to. He refused to sign the scale that both miners and operators agreed to because it took these concessions from him. The other operators refused to sign unless Robinson would.

All the delegates will return for the final conference. President Mitchell and Secretary-Treasurer Wilson will also be here. It is expected that the latter gentlemen will succeed in effecting a satisfactory settlement.

TWELVE PERSONS DROWNED.

Life Savers and Stranded Seamen Perished—Cleveland Man Among the Lost.

Chatham, Mass., March 18.—Seven life savers, practically the entire crew of the Monomoy station, on the South end of Cape Cod, met death yesterday at their post of duty, and with them into the sea, which capsize the life boat, went five men from the stranded barge Wadena, whom they tried to bring in safety to the shore.

One man, Lemuel Ellis, through the heroic work of Captain Elmer Mayo of another stranded barge, the John C. Fitzpatrick, was rescued from the bottom of the upturned life boat. Among those lost was William H. Mack, of Cleveland, O., who was on the barge representing his company, the Boutell Towing and Transportation company, of that city, while Captain Marshall N. Eldredge, one of the oldest life savers on the coast, went down with his men. All the life savers came from Chatham and Harwich.

THANKFUL TO GOD

For Opportunity to Write to Her Mother Once More, Said Miss Stone.

Boston, March 18.—A postal card from Miss Ellen M. Stone, the missionary to Bulgaria, was received by her mother yesterday, it being the first message by mail from her since her release. She writes:

"Salonica, Feb. 28. 'My Own Blessed Mother: With all my heart I thank God for the opportunity to write once more. Mrs. Tsilka, baby Elenchine and I are pretty well, and full of happiness and thankfulness to be free. All of our friends, too, are so much rejoiced that we can marvel at the strong bonds which make all hearts one, the earth round. With love to all friends, 'Your Daughter, 'Ellen M. Stone.'

The American board received a postal yesterday from the Rev. F. B. Haskell, of Selonika, dated March 1, which says:

"Ransomed, captives seem remarkably well. Miss Stone is troubled some by a knee which was hurt by a stumble the very night she was liberated. It does not seem so serious, however. Four British ships are here now, which increases missionary work."

PROLONGED BY YEARS.

Short Lives Lengthened By Removing Cause of Disease.

Many Glowing Tributes Paid to Blood Wine, The Great French Discovery, Which Cures Colds, Consumption, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, etc.

That "Blood Wine" fully comes up to the expectations of our people is evidenced by the expression of satisfaction from the many who have already given it a test. "If I had to go without some of the necessities of life, I would have 'Blood Wine' in the house," said a certain gentleman living in the northern part of the city. "It wards off coughs, colds, indigestion, bowel troubles and a dozen and one other diseases that are apt to attack any one. 'A bottle of good medicine always handy is the 'stitch in time' that saves suffering and misery; and this is just the kind of medicine that will do it.' To begin away down at the roots of any sickness, what is the first step to be taken? 'Purify the blood,' is the answer from every physician. Regulate the bowels and purify the blood. Microbes, bacteria, bacilli and all kinds of germs float through the system in the blood.

Just stop and reason it out; think of your blood teeming with these myriads of little demons, floating hither and thither like wreckage on a great ocean, to be cast up against the delicate organs of the system where they find lodging places, stay, thrive and breed, perhaps in the lungs, perhaps in the throat, kidneys, heart or tender tissues of the body anywhere. This is the beginning of trouble. Cleanse your blood and you purify the whole system.

With pure blood and a good circulation no one ever contracted consumption or other fatal disease. "Blood Wine" gives new life because it makes new blood. It brings rest and quiet because it soothes the nerves; it creates a good appetite by tuning up the digestive organs; it regulates the system by producing healthy, regular operations of the bowels. It kills that tired feeling and makes one feel like running, jumping and exercising; it gives elasticity to the body by acting directly on the muscles and causing them to respond to the mind's dictates. One teaspoonful of "Blood Wine" makes the blood tingle; it is instantaneous in its action and leaves no room for doubt. It contains no wine or opiates.

"Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle but you can sample it at Will Reed and Hodson's drug stores, free of charge. It stands on its own merits; it is the only medicine that has ever been placed on sale with the local dealer authorized to keep a bottle of it always open to be administered to anyone free of cost.

"I have been troubled a great deal with a torpid liver, which produces constipation. I found CASCARETS to be all you claim for them, and secured such relief the first trial, that I purchased another supply and was completely cured. BASKET COMPANY SHARES at 50 CTS.

Truth About Recent Advances.—Reasons Why a Further Rise to and Beyond Par is Inevitable.

Shares in the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company have advanced to 50 cts. (par value, $1.00 full paid and non-assessable.)

The rise is due to popular appreciation of opportunity. Such opportunities usually go to a Syndicate of Capitalists.

This one has been offered direct to the public, and prompt advantage has been taken of it. It has become "THE PEOPLES' TRUST."

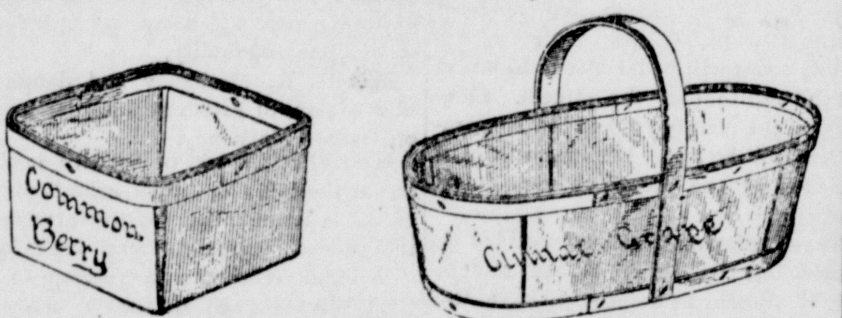

The proposition of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company is one of automatic machine work as opposed to hand labor, and none of the noted labor-saving machines familiar to every one can compare in effectiveness and practical accomplishment with the basket-making machines which this Company owns and controls.

THE MERGENTHALER LINOTYPE, which does the work of four or five men, pays a steady dividend of twenty per cent on ten millions of capital.

THE HARVESTING MACHINES which cut the country's grain, require two horses and one man to do the work of six men, but these machines made the McCormick millions.

THE SEWING MACHINE, which works five times as fast as the seamstress, built palaces and supports whole townships with its earnings.

But the Basket-making Machines of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company are so efficient and so perfectly automatic that with each of them ONE GIRL DOES THE WORK OF TWELVE MEN.

COMPANY CONTROLS ITS OWN FIELD.

In addition to the great saving of labor, which would commend these machines as an investment to every business man and every thinking person, there is the most important fact that the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company will BUSINESS ITSELF. Its model factories will be set up on a scale commensurate with the great scope of the Company's field of work, and will manufacture from raw material and deliver to the fruit grower every basket needed for the moving and marketing of every ounce of fruit produced.

IN THIS WAY the full control of prices, of product and of profit will be retained by the giant organization which represents the people, who are alive to the merit of a proposition stronger than any which has ever been offered to the public for popular subscription.

A proposition controlling an industry of which the present and immediate PROFITS ARE OVER $4,000,000 A YEAR, and the demand for fruit baskets of all kinds is increasing at the rate of 150,000,000 baskets a year.

Already there are six thousand shareholders in this great Corporation.

Already the plans of the Company are taking definite form in negotiations which are nearing completion and which, when announced, will drive the selling price of the shares higher and higher.

FACTS THAT COUNT.

The actual yearly demand exceeds Two Billion Baskets. Value at wholesale, Eleven Million Dollars. The net profit on this volume of business last year was $1,387,000. The Baskets were all made by hand. Each Mergenthaler-Horton Company machine does the work of twelve men. The saving in labor by the use of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machines amounts to more than TWO MILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY. This gives earnings for the company of OVER THREE MILLION THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, OR OVER THIRTY-THREE PER CENT ON THE ENTIRE CAPITAL ON THE PRESENT VOLUME OF BUSINESS. The machines may be seen in operation at the Robinson Basket Machine factory, Painesville, O., where over thirty are installed; at Elmira, N. Y., at the machine shops of Emmett Horton, one of the investors, and at Fochs, N. Y., where they are also in operation. The practical working of the machines is now shown in every office of the Company named below. The Company will not sell or lease its machines, but will equip and own and operate basket factories all over this country.

DOUBLING THEIR MONEY.

Follow the steps taken by the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company and it will be seen that every step has been in exact accord with its announcements. Early shareholders now see their shares double in value. New subscribers will see their shares double in value, and still the limit of price for these shares will not be reached, because just as surely as the Linotype Machine pays its shareholders twenty per cent on ten millions of capital, JUST SO SURELY WILL THE AUTOMATIC BASKET-MAKING MACHINES WHICH SAVE THREE TIMES AS MUCH LABOR AS THE LINOTYPE, EARN DIVIDENDS WHICH WILL MAKE THE SHARES OF THE MERGENTHALER-HORTON BASKET MACHINE COMPANY SOUGHT FOR AT PRICES WHICH ARE BEYOND PRESENT COMPUTATION.

SHARE AND SHARE ALIKE.

All the stock of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company is common stock. No person has any advantage over another person. These are no bonds, no debts, no preferred stock. Every shareholder gets the same proportionate voice in the affairs of the Company, and the same proportionate profit out of its earnings. The Company is justly styled THE PEOPLES' TRUST.

Subscribers to the stock of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket Machine Company may send or bring their subscriptions to any office of the Company. Checks, drafts, and money orders should be drawn to the order of CHARLES R. BARLOW, Treasurer. No subscription accepted for less than 50 shares.

BEHAVIOR OF CROWDS

One Thing That Impressed
Prince Henry, During
His Visit.

SOME FACES IMPRESSED HIM

Strong, Beautiful and Spiritual Casts
of Countenance He Occasionally
Saw—Would Like to Have Become Acquainted With These Persons.

Cherbourg, France, March 18.—The arrangements made by Emperor William for the reception of Prince Henry when the latter arrives at Cuxhaven were communicated to the prince after the Deutschland left Plymouth. Prince Henry expressed himself as greatly pleased therewith. He interprets the elaborate plans of Emperor William as an expression of his majesty's complete satisfaction at the success of the prince's American trip.

Prince Was Very Tired.

Prince Henry says he was so tired when he finally boarded the Deutschland at New York that he slept almost continuously for 48 hours, except for the time he appeared for his meals or to take short walks on the bridge. He says he never worked so hard in his life as when he was in the United States; that he never changed his uniform so many times a day or faced a succession of situations requiring such alertness and a certain initiative on his own part. They were situations which could not be met with merely formal behavior or the mechanical execution of a routine program.

While conversing with members of his suite Prince Henry has alluded to many things in connection with his trip. He has mentioned nothing more frequently than that no single unpleasant incident occurred in the United States. Ideas, scenes and impressions were crowded upon him too rapidly for proper appreciation at the moment perhaps, but as Prince Henry himself said:

"We have accumulated material to think about for months to come."

When one of his party inquired what had impressed him most the prince replied that the great, orderly and cheerful crowds had been his most continuous impression and would probably always be one of his most vivid impressions.

Admired Some Faces.

The prince said he saw crowds out of doors and in doors—faces of men and women, with here and there a powerful, a beautiful, or a spiritual face. He said his regret, if he dared to say he had any, was that he could not know some of those people better.

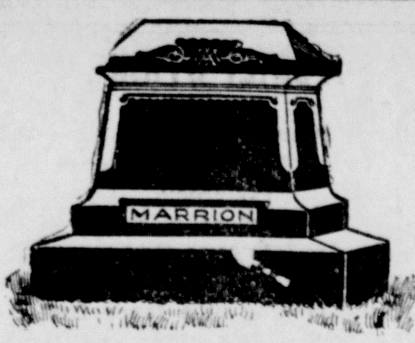

THEY ALL SAY SO

Not Only in East Liverpool, But in Every City and Town in the Union.

If the reader took the time and trouble to ask his fellow residents of East Liverpool the simple question given below, he would obtain the one answer. If he would read the statements now being published in East Liverpool, which refer to this answer, it would surprise him to know that they number so many. As many more could be, and may be, published, but in the meantime ask the first person you meet what cures backache? The answer will be, Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a citizen who endorses our claim.

Mr. B. H. Hawkins, an employee of Sebring's pottery who resides at 234 Second street, says: "I had been taking medicine for my kidneys right along, and if I had found a cure I would have had no occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled two years or more with distressing backache across the loins, a steady, aching pain with a quick twinge now and then while stooping or lifting that felt as if a sharp instrument had pierced my back, and the secretions of the kidneys were highly colored, feverish or slightly scalding. Work seemed to be a drag, I had no energy and I am more than thankful that I was induced to go to the W. & W. pharmacy and get Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking them there was no sign of my old complaint."

AN OPPORTUNITY

Many people would like to honor the memory of departed loved ones with a handsome monument, but the high prices demanded by the local monument dealers prevent them.

We sell and deliver fine monuments or headstones at much lower prices than similar stones can be obtained elsewhere.

Most of our local monument dealers work by expensive hand methods, while our work is done by the most improved labor saving machinery. Machine work not only lessens the cost of the monument, but insures better results as the moldings, letters, etc., are cut much deeper and smoother than by hand and therefore show plainer.

The stone we use is the very best—will not rust, discolor or become streaked as most granites do.

We sell to monument dealers at wholesale and also sell direct to the individual buyer, delivering complete in the cemetery.

Our handsome booklet with designs explains all. It is free if you mention this paper.

LUKBAN WISHED A THRONE.

If Victorious, He Would Have Constituted Himself Emperor.

Seattle, Wash., March 18.—Mail advises from Calbayog, under date of Jan. 26, contains the following: Major Rosales who recently surrendered at Calbayog says that if Lukban had been successful in defeating the Americans in Samar he had intended to constitute himself emperor and his minor officers princes under his authority, thereby placing the island under absolute monarchy. There was no idea of constituting a republican form of government. Asked if he considered Lukban a patriot, Rosales said he did not.

Frankly, he said that he now believed that the Americans would give the people of Samar as good a government as they needed and for that reason as much as because of the difficulty in obtaining supplies, he had surrendered himself.

Hollidaysburg, Pa., March 18.—The Blair county Republican convention was held in the court house here yesterday. Thomas Herbert, of Altoona, was elected chairman and W. L. EVANS TO BE PROMOTED.

He is to Sever His Connection With Pension Bureau—New Position Not Decided.

Washington, March 18.—There is no longer any doubt that Pension Commissioner Evans will within the next few months, at the latest, sever his connection with the pension bureau to accept from the president a position, which will be a substantial promotion, but which has not yet been definitely selected.

It is well known that Mr. Evans has the entire confidence of the president and the latter will not consider the question of his retirement until a position entirely satisfactory to the commissioner has been provided.

No decision has yet been reached concerning a successor to Mr. Evans, nor will any action be taken until the president is thoroughly convinced that he has found a man of the same high character and sterling worth possessed by the present commissioner in so high a degree.

It will be issued in the form of a supplement, to each of our daily papers on Saturday, March 29th; complete description, location and price of your lot will be given in it if you will place it on sale with us or before March 22d. In order that the public of East Liverpool may appreciate this list and preserve it we will give on its reverse side a complete up-to-date map of East Liverpool, showing and naming each street, alley, addition, public building, works, etc., and useful statistical information of the city. HEADED THEM OFF

BOYS WANTED TO ENLIST, BUT WERE PREVENTED.

Brother of One Went to Pittsburg And Thwarted Their Soldierly Ambition.

Roy Allison, 19 years of age and Harry Gotschall, about 20, left this city on Saturday morning for Pittsburg where it was their intention to enlist in the regular army.

On Monday morning Allison's mother found a note in one of his pockets which imparted the information that doubtless by the time his family received the note he would be on his way to the Philippines. Steps were at once taken to head off the boys, and with this end in view messages were sent to the Pittsburg police authorities to keep a lookout for the runaways.

At noon yesterday Harvey Allison, brother of one of the lads, went to Pittsburg and lost no time in locating the regular army recruiting stations. At 955 Penn avenue the boys had applied for admission to the army, but an officer was present and stopped the proceedings. Harvey brought both boys to this city on the evening train.

A BRIEF STRIKE

Fallston Pottery Workers Were Out Three Days, But Resumed Yesterday.

Every department of the Fallston pottery was idle from Friday morning until Monday on account of a dispute over the making of a fancy fruit, together with a few other small matters.

The trouble has been on for some time, and as there seemed little prospect for a settlement being made the men went out.

Secretary Duffy went to Fallston Saturday afternoon and was not long in arranging affairs so that the men could go to work. The question of whether the workmen would receive four cents, which they demanded for making the shape, or whether they will submit to the firm's price of 3 1/4 cents was left in the hands of the standing committee.

The other disputes were settled amicably.

Secretary Duffy returned home Saturday night.

And East Liverpool And Wellsville Cases Could Not Proceed in Court.

Lisbon, March 18. — (Special) — No jury cases were heard in common pleas court today. The cases scheduled were of interest principally to Wellsville and East Liverpool residents, the petitions having been filed by attorneys from those cities.

The attorneys failed to catch the train at Rochester and cannot reach Lisbon until this evening. There is a possibility that a jury will be empaneled this evening and will view the Lawson property in Wellsville tomorrow, in the case of C. C. Lawson and others versus the city of Wellsville. The Lawsons claim their property was injured by a change of grade on Third street and ask $3,000 damages.

PLEASANT LITTLE PARTY

Given By Miss Mary Sophia McCann to About Twenty Friends.

When the time for refreshment arrived each guest was provided with the half of a figure cut from a magazine, and thus each boy was to find his partner for the prettily arranged luncheon. The favors were unique.

The evening was greatly enjoyed by about twenty young people.
